Govt expects Jan Covid surge, next 40 days crucial

RT-PCR test mandate 72 hrs before flight for arrivals from hotspot nations could be back

Covid vaccination at the Rajiv Gandhi hospital in Chennai | ASHWIN PRASATH

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE next 40 days will be crucial as India could see a surge in Covid-19 cases in January, health ministry officials warned on Wednesday, citing the pattern of past coronavirus outbreaks in the country.

However, they said even if there is a new wave, infections will not be severe. Also, they do not expect a phenomenal rise in hospitalisations and deaths as most Indians have been vaccinated and have hybrid immunity, as compared to China, which had earlier followed a flawed zero-Covid policy. Hybrid immunity is the protection provided by a combination of infection and vaccination.

"The trend we have seen in earlier Covid waves is that a new wave hits India in around 35-40 days whenever a surge is seen in East Asia," official sources said.

The warning came amidst a surge in Covid-19 cases globally, especially in China, driven by the Omicron sub-variant BF.7.

Officials said 39 international passengers tested positive for Covid-19 out of the 6,000 arrivals screened at airports across the country in the last two days. Mandatory Covid testing of 2% of international arrivals from hotspots nations began on Saturday last.

Starting next week, carrying Covid-negative RT-PCR report of test taken 72 hours prior to the flight could be made mandatory for all international passengers from countries like China, Japan, South Korea, Hong Kong, Thailand and Singapore. The proposal was to have been formalised this week itself, but there has been no official announcement yet.

The government, which on November 22 discontinued mandatory filling up of Air Suvidha forms, may bring it back if infection cases start climbing. Air Suvidha is a self-declaration Covid vaccination form introduced as a preventive measure that also helped in contact tracing.

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi's mother Hiraben Modi, 100, was on Wednesday admitted to hospital after her health deteriorated.

Modi visited her in the afternoon and returned to Delhi after doctors at U N Mehta Institute of Cardiology & Research Centre in Ahmedabad assured him that his mother's health condition has started improving.

"Prime Minister Narendra Modi reached the hospital at 4 pm. He sat near his mother for one-and-a-half hours.

The doctors updated the PM about his mother's health. Her health is improving and she is likely to be discharged in a day or two," Rajya Sabha MP ugalji Thakor told reporters.

Later, the hospital released a health update saying the condition of the PM's mother is "stable and improving".

Leaders across the country, including Congress leaders Mallikarjun Kharge, Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, wished speedy recovery to PM Modi's mother. "The love between a mother and a son is eternal and priceless. Modi ji, my love, and support are with you in this difficult time. I hope your mother gets well soon," Rahul tweeted.

Stampede at Naidu's meet, at least 8 dead

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Nellore

AT least eight TDP workers, including two women, lost their lives and three others suffered severe injuries in a stampede during party chief N Chandrababu Naidu's roadshow in Andhra Pradesh's Nellore district on Wednesday night.

The incident took place while Naidu was on a three-day tour to Nellore as part of his protest against the YSRC government. As the rally reached NTR Circle and Naidu began his address, the crowd jostled to come near TDP chief's vehicle leading to a stampede. Police said over 20 people, who were standing near a drain, fell into it. "The drain was not deep but people falling on one another led to suffocation. Party workers pulled them out of the drain but two persons had already died by then," police said.

Following the stampede, Naidu stopped his roadshow and rushed to the hospital. He, later, went to the NTR circle and observed two-minute silence condoling the deaths, while calling off the roadshow for the day.

In a first, IISc researchers roped in for Blue Economy project

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOR the first time, researchers from the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) in Bengaluru have been roped in to study the ecological and economical value of water bodies and coasts in Karnataka. This will be part of a Blue Economy study, a joint initiative taken up by the Central government and the World Bank. "It will be for the first in India that such a study is being undertaken in the east and west coasts of the country," said Prof T V Ramachandra from Centre for Ecological Sciences, IISc. Ramchandra said the parameters for the study are being decided.

The study is being undertaken by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation. Experts, ecologists and officials from the National Green Tribunal will also be a part of the project. The first meeting under the initiative was held in Chennai in November. Experts told TNIE that the study assumes significance as the Central government is working on creating ports under the Sagarmala project. Many states like Karnataka have started the exercise of interlinking of rivers and reducing the flow of water downstream to oceans and season. The increasing number of dams has also led to reduction in salinity and sand residues in water which lead to the sea. The study also comes in the backdrop of the Central government undertaking green economy project of the Western Ghats and increasing forest cover in the country. P7

Cancel illegal appointments of govt school teachers: DPI

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

THE Department of Public Instruction has ordered the immediate cancellation of all illegal postings of government primary and high school teachers in the state.

Public Instruction Commissioner R Vishal said there had been several instances of teachers abandoning their designated posts to occupy positions in other government schools. "If, for example, the teacher has been assigned a post in Bengaluru, they will need to stay deputed here. Doing so otherwise is illegal. Only the government has the authority to change the posting of a teacher to a different block. However, in this year alone, there have been over a thousand cases of teachers occupying posts different from those that they were deputed," he said.

According to the commissioner, as many as 30 cases had been brought to his notice, which is why the circular had been issued. "There are specific exceptions for deputation of teachers. If a school has no teachers, a teacher within that block can be assigned by the relevant authorities to teach at that school. Similarly, if a school has no students, the teachers assigned to that school can be deputed to another school within that block," he told TNIE.

He said that cases had been recorded of Block Education Officers (BEOs) or Deputy Directors of Public Education (DDPIs) approving deputations of teachers in other blocks. However, he said, this was illegal as BEOs and DDPIs do not have the authority to make that decision as it rests only with the government. As per the circular, the department has ordered that all illegal deputations are immediately cancelled and reports are filed as to what action has been taken. The commissioner said that time has been given till the end of the month to cancel the appointments, otherwise action will be taken against the authorities.

ONUS OF PAYING RELIEF ON LAND OWNER TOO

Consumer Forum verdict makes developer, owner culpable for delay in housing project

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN a significant verdict pertaining to a delayed housing project in Bengaluru, the National Consumer Dispute Redressal Commission has ordered that the onus of paying compensation to home buyers rests both with the developer as well as landowner, if they construct it jointly. Billing it a landmark verdict, the Karnataka Homebuyers' Forum said it would serve as a reference case for similar disputes, and have a bearing on real estate projects across the country.

The order was issued on Tuesday (November 27) by members Binoy Kumar and Sudip Ahluwalia in a case filed in 2017 by 52 home buyers of ND Laurel Apartment at Vinayaka Nagar in Gunjur village. Supposed to be completed in March 2013, the project is still incomplete, with occupancy certificate too not given to home owners.

Advocate Chandrachur Bhattacharyya, appearing on behalf of the home buyers, said, "It has been nine years since the handover was to be complete. Without an occupancy certificate, it remains only a paper project." Home buyers have paid between Rs 50 lakh and Rs 60 lakh each, and those who want a refund will be given the amount with 9 per cent annual interest, while those who want to continue with the project will be paid the money with 8 per cent interest for all the years of delay, until the Occupancy Certificate is handed over, he said. "The onus will be on both the developer of Laurel and those who sold the land to him," he explained. Dhananjaya Padmanabhachar of Karnataka Homebuyers' Forum told TNIE, "Under the Real Estate Regulatory Authority Act, land owners too are equally responsible for the delay. This judgment is finally in line with the RERA Act."

"In our case against Mantri Developers, we have made the landowners Iskcon, India Heritage Trust and Gokulam Shelters party. We hope to get a similar judgment in our case too," he added.

Activists mixed about BMLTA fixing transport woes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Assembly passing the Bengaluru Metropolitan Land Transport Authority (BMLTA) Bill has received mixed response from several quarters. While those like Bengaluru Navanirmana Party (BNP) have welcomed BMLTA, Bengaluru Bus Prayanikara Vedike (BBPV) has opposed it.

BMLTA is a unified agency that will be in charge of all policy decisions relating to urban mobility, with the Chief Minister as its ex-officio chairperson, and the Bengaluru development minister and transport minister as ex-officio vice-chairpersons.

Vinay Sreenivasa of BBPV said, "The BMLTA will be another state-controlled agency and the passing of the Bill without public consultation and in the absence of a BBMP-elected council is against the 74th Amendment of the Constitution that decentralized powers to urban local bodies."

"City roads are under BBMP's control, and BMTC is under the transport department, while the Metro is under the Urban Development Department. We agree that transport coordination is needed, but passing the Bill hurriedly in the absence of an elected BBMP Council undermines the power of ULBs, who are empowered to take decisions," Vinay said, adding that the Opposition parties must oppose BMLTA.

Terming the passing of the BMLTA Bill as the first step towards fixing traffic woes in Bengaluru, Srikanth Narasimhan, founder and general secretary of BNP, said, "Bengaluru is in need of a unified transport body that will integrate multiple government agencies to address traffic woes. Aware of the need for a single authority to plan, oversee, and coordinate activities of various other agencies, with a holistic and integrated approach to the transport system which has been in discussion for 14 long years.

With the passing of the Bill, BNP's goal for sustainable urban transport is now within reach, Srikanth added.

Bill passed in Council

BELAGAVI: The BMLTA Bill, which will bring all transport and allied departments under one umbrella to streamline the traffic in Bengaluru, was passed in the Legislative Council on Wednesday. On Tuesday, the Bill was passed in the Assembly.

George wants BDA's HRBR Layout issue sorted out

ENS @ Bengaluru

FORMER Bengaluru development minister K J George has demanded that the Revenue Minister call for a meeting to sort out the issue pertaining to the legal status of house owners of BDA's HRBR Layout. TNIE had in its issue dated December 23 highlighted the residents' fears, as the layout was built on a dried-up lake in 1984-85, and the Revenue Department had still not transferred the land documents to the BDA.

Banaswadi, where the layout has been formed, falls under the constituency of the MLA. Stating that the residents had handed over a memorandum to him, George said, "This land is worth Rs 1,200 crore-Rs 1,500 crore. This is people's property." He also alleged that the individuals Katappa and Kunappa, who are staking claim to the property, have fabricated documents and got the khata changed. Till the BDA formed the layout, the duo had kept quiet and the Tahsildar whom they approached has stated they were fabrciated documents, he explained.

Calling for a meet on January 5 or 6, 2023, with the law secretary, Advocate General and residents, he said, "Let us sit and seriously discuss how such an expensive public property can be saved. At the earliest, it should go to the Supreme Court for a Special Leave Petition or whatever alternative action can be taken."

BENGALURU: Poor weather and air traffic congestion impacted flights at Kempegowda International Airport on Wednesday. Early morning fog affected some flights, but its cascading effect was felt through the day, with flights in a holding pattern awaiting clearance. IndiGo said 23 of its flights were impacted due to fog. "Due to the congestion at the airport, many of our flights were impacted throughout the day and got delayed," a spokesperson from IndiGo said. A source from BIAL, however, claimed that only two flights -- of IndiGo and Vistara -- were delayed because of poor visibility.

ED probes BBMP borewell, RO plant scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) is probing alleged irregularities in drilling of borewells and installation of RO plants in Bengaluru from 2016 to 2019. The agency has sent a notice to Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) seeking details about the works.

Confirming this, Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said they have appointed BBMP Engineer-In-Chief BS Prahalad as nodal officer to coordinate with ED officials, and give all details for the inquiry.

BJP leader NR Ramesh, a complainant in the case, said there was a scam in the Rs 969-crore works taken up in five BBMP zones – Dasarahalli, Mahadevapura, RR Nagar, Bommanahalli and Yelahanka -- between 2016 and 2019. Ramesh has named five joint commissioners, chief engineers, executive engineers, assistant engineers and assistant engineers.

"The Palike said that 9,588 borewells were drilled and 976 RO plants were put up at a total cost of Rs 969 crore. In reality, not even 25 per cent of the work was done. Work was done at inflated cost. This is looting and I filed a complaint with ACB on May 16, 2019. Since the scam was over Rs 100 crore, it is a fit case for ED probe as it attracts the 'Money Laundering Act', and the case was transferred. On December 12, I was asked to appear before ED and have given a 30-page statement," alleged Ramesh.

Reacting to the development, Girinath said, "ED sought information about the RO plant setup from 2016-2019 in BBMP outer zones. A complaint was first filed with ACB, and later transferred to ED. We received a notice in November and subsequently, BS Prahalad was made nodal officer to coordinate with ED officials."

PALIKE BEGINS COLD-MIX ASPHALT TO FIX CITY'S POTHOLES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE BBMP has started cold-mix asphalt of roads, instead of hot-mix asphalt, in a bid to fix potholes, stating that this technique is easier to manage.

BBMP Chief Engineer BS Prahallad said they started cold-mix asphalt three days ago. This method has been adopted due to its ease of handling raw material, and for the non-requirement of heavy equipment for filling potholes. He said BBMP has started in-house manufacturing of cold mix to be used. Both the methods, hot and cold-asphalt, provide the same quality.

Prahallad further said it would become difficult to use hot mix for asphalting potholes as a particular temperature is to be maintained for the raw material, and once the tar is laid on the road, it is supposed to be flattened with a road-roller. With the cold mix, all that is not required and the pothole can be filled up and manually stamped.

A civil engineer explained that either cold mix or hot mix could be used for asphalting of roads. The process of laying it down properly is much more important, he said, adding that even when a pothole is filled, it should be levelled with the rest of the surface and should not create bumps. With the entire hot-mix asphalt work done so far, the material is not properly compacted which ends up creating several bumps on the road, the engineer said.

He highlighted that the issue stands with the workmanship and not the process. For instance, the engineer explained that if a pothole has an irregular shape, it is to be cut in a regular shape and filled accordingly in level with the road.

With the road work also being done across the city, he said unless the compacting of the road is done properly, potholes will continue to show up.

BBMP OKAYS CUTTING OF 268 TREES FOR SUBURBAN RAIL

The BBMP has given the go-ahead to the nodal agency for implementing the Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP), Karnataka Rail Infrastructure Development Enterprises (K-RIDE), to cut 268 trees. The agency had sought permission to cut 661 trees. K-Ride's letter dated October 18, 2021, had sought permission to clear the trees to carry out infrastructure work for its only tendered corridor of the BSRP, Baiyappanahalli to Chikkabanavara line.

Daily Starscope

29TH December: Cautious alignments are emphasised today. In my opinion it's a day for us all to slow down and take stock, even if our personal horoscopes disagree. Concentrate on what you can achieve in practical terms, and leave speculation for later. I'm planning to steer clear of distractions like phone calls and emails and hope that, by the end of the day, I've actually got something to show for my efforts!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There does seem to be a massive planetary contradiction, posing a serious problem concerning your true loyalties. However, as far as home and work are concerned, there is a middle way staring you in the face. It may take someone else to point it out to you, though!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is some way to go before you can truly call yourself free of the past, indeed in many cases this may be an impossible goal. What does seem to be certain, though, is that memories of the present time will overlay thoughts of long ago to the extent that these may be effectively forgotten.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
With so many irons in the fire it is hardly surprising that you are hard-pressed to know what to do next. If at all possible, you should attempt to discriminate between choices, meetings and trips which are vital and those which may be put off until tomorrow.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There is no time for a backward glance. You are famous for your determination to hang on to the past, but now you must realise that there is no going back. All you can do is resolve to create a wonderful future. You can also decide to do your best by someone who has been so loyal to you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is now every chance that you will come through with flying colours. However, if you are to be derailed, it will be because you refuse to accept the need to initiate radical change and go for increased efficiency in all work and routine tasks.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Entertainments should be unusual, eccentric and odd, not to say completely outrageous. If you go for the same old thing, you'll never know what you missed, so you may disregard all rules, regulations and taboos. Perhaps it's time to set your own limits.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If a move of home has been mooted, or any similar domestic upheaval considered, today is the day to begin to make it a reality. Initiate any worthwhile steps as soon as you can. Also, watch out for gadgets that seem to be developing a mind of their own.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Sometimes you just have to stick up for yourself, and you seem less ready than ever to compromise. Now, everyone who has any sense knows that you are right, but it still holds that if you fail to notice changing circumstances, all you have striven for will come unstuck.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Although some of the direct alignments with your sign are weak, the overwhelming nature of current planetary patterns is favourable, more so indeed than at any time since last month! As you can see, you're therefore now operating on a very significant monthly cycle.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The pressure towards some sort of separation is overwhelming, but is so general that it is impossible to be more specific about what sort of connection you're going to give up. It may be, for example, that all that is required is a clean break with the bad habits of the past.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It is rare that every single member of your sign is affected by a very major planetary transit at the same time, yet that is now the situation. While agreeing that the present moment is significant though, only you can decide whether you must put your plans into effect now or later.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It's time to devote much more energy than in the past to your physical well-being. As from today, you should make it your goal to get yourself into the very peak of condition - within your natural limits - of course. There's no point in over-doing it just to impress people.

Don't transfer sans inquiry: HC to govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE State Government cannot transfer a public servant on receiving a complaint without first taking action on the said complaint, the Karnataka High Court has said. "In case of any serious complaints against a government officer, transfer is not the remedy. The authority concerned should hold an inquiry and if the allegations have any veracity, disciplinary proceedings should be initiated. During the interval, the delinquent officer could be placed under suspension, if there is an apprehension that the officer may interfere with the inquiry," the court said.

A division bench of Justice Suraj Govindaraj and Justice G Basavaraja passed the order while dismissing the petition filed by Dr Patil Shashi, District Health and Family Welfare Officer, Dharwad. The court said mere transfer on receiving serious complaints will amount to abdication of power on the part of the government. The petitioner questioned the order dated November 4, 2022, passed by the Karnataka State Administrative Tribunal, Belagavi, which quashed the transfer of Dr Basanagouda from the post of DHO, Dharwad, on October 1, 2022. Dr Sashi was posted in place of Basanagouda, who was transferred to the taluk hospital in Nargund. This was following the approval of the CM in view of the recommendation made by an MP after receiving a serious complaint from more than 100 doctors. The court said instead of initiating any inquiry on the complaint dated July 13, 2022, the government slept over the matter and only on October 1, 2022, it issued the transfer notification. The fact that the transfer was approved on July 29, 2022, and given effect on October 1, 2022, does not indicate any seriousness or emergency or exigency. The transfer could not be effected without initiating disciplinary proceedings. "We do not find any infirmity in the order passed by the Tribunal," the court said.

WINTER SESSION TO END TODAY FOR SHAH VISIT

Opposition leaders term it ineffective, say North Karnataka issues not discussed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi:

The ongoing winter session of legislature at Suvarna Vidhan Soudha in Belagavi is being wound up hastily, even before some major issues pertaining to various parts of the state have been discussed effectively. Though the government is under pressure to take up several issues pertaining to North Karnataka on priority, the assembly discussed them briefly at the fag end of Wednesday's session. Despite starting on December 19, the session has been unable to highlight many important issues, particularly of North Karnataka. It was expected that the government would dedicate considerable time in both Houses to discuss these issues.

According to sources, the session is being cut short by a day and is expected to end by Thursday afternoon, in view of the visit of Union Home Minister Amit Shah to Mandya on December 30, which will be attended by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, most of his ministers and BJP MLAs.

The Speaker said that since the session will end early on Thursday, an important Finance Bill will be tabled soon after question hour. The session should have ended on December 30, as per the earlier schedule. Former minister R V Deshpande, an eight-time legislator from Haliyal, who was given the 'Best MLA' award in the legislative assembly on Thursday, expressed regret over the government's continued failure to hold the session effectively in Belagavi.

"The government has invested hugely on establishing the Suvarna Vidhana Soudha. Public money has been spent on this mammoth structure but unfortunately it is not being utilised properly," he said. Deshpande told TNIE that the session should have been held at least for 22 days in Suvarna Vidhana Soudha, so that important issues could be raised and discussed. "The government should hold sessions with some purpose and objective and ensure that people's problems are discussed," he added.

MLC from Belagavi Chennaraj Hattiholi said the objective of holding the session in Belagavi is not being achieved as it is being held merely as a routine. Many MLAs from border areas refrained from attending when a unanimous resolution was passed following a marathon debate on the Karnataka and Maharashtra border row.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai makes a point in the Assembly on Wednesday | EXPRESS

Only 30 MLAs attend debate on NK region

The negligence of the elected representatives towards the burning issues of North Karnataka became visible during the winter session of the Karnataka Legislative Assembly at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha on Wednesday. Of the 225 legislators, only 30 legislators participated, of whom one legislator highlighted some issues of North Karnataka . The issues of North Karnataka were taken under special discussion in the Assembly on Wednesday evening for 30 minutes. Muddebihal MLA AS Patil Nadahalli demanded comprehensive development of the region. He said, around 14 lakh hectare land of North Karnataka will come under irrigation if the Upper Krishna Project (UKP) stage-3 is implemented. The government should resolve the legal issues and implement this important project, he demanded. Also, there is a lot of scope for the development of tourism sector as ancient ruins—Badami, Aihole, Pattadkallu of Kadamba, Hoysala, Rashtrakuta dynasty — are situated within a 100-km radius of Almatti dam and Narayanapura dam. There is also scope for fishing activities in the over lakh available saline land and backwaters of Almatti dam in North Karnataka under the Prime Minister's scheme. Tourism and fisheries can create lakhs of jobs and improve the GDP of the state, he said.

Shah to take stock of BJP poll prep

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah will be in Karnataka on Friday and Saturday and he is expected to take stock of the BJP's preparations for the Assembly elections to be held early next year.

As the BJP is trying hard to improve its performance in the Vokkaliga-dominated Old Mysuru region, Shah will address a rally in Mandya on Friday and a party workers' convention in Bengaluru on Saturday.

Close to 50,000 people from Mandya, Mysuru, Hassan and other districts in the Old Mysuru region are expected to attend the Mandya rally. Shah is also attending a programme of a milk union in Mandya.

Congress and JDS hold considerable sway over voters in the Old Mysuru region. Though the BJP performed well in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, its performance in the 2018 Assembly elections was not up to its expectations. Shah's visit to Mandya is significant considering the BJP's effort to improve its performance in the region as it has set itself an ambitious target of winning 150 seats. On Saturday, Shah will address party leaders in Bengaluru. A BJP leader said close to 10,000 people, including those in charge of booths, will attend the convention.

Take all-party panel to Centre for border row, DKS tells CM

Bengaluru: KPCC president DK Shivakumar dared CM Basavaraj Bommai to take an all-party delegation to the national capital to discuss the border issue with the Centre. "Not surprised that CM is merely doing lip service with hollow statements. If he actually means that he doesn't want to cede an inch of Karnataka to Maharashtra, he should immediately take an all party delegation to Delhi," Shivakumar tweeted, responding to Bommai's statement on the government's stand on the border issue. Shivakumar said Union Home Minister Amit Shah should assure Karnataka that the Centre will protect its interests. "Let the Home Minister give a public assurance on the matter," he stated.

Belagavi: The State Government has said that e-tenders will be floated to supply foodgrains and other material required to prepare prasada at Kukke Subramanya Swamy temple in Kadaba taluk of Dakshina Kannada. Replying to a question by MLC UB Venkatesh (Congress), Housing Minister V Somanna said the present tender process will be discontinued from January and e-tender will be introduced. He was replying on behalf of Muzrai Minister Shashikala Jolle. The government has stated that the temple, being under its control, is procuring foodgrains from Janatha Bazaar. On the action taken, the reply by the Endowment, Hajj and Waqf department said that there is no report from the Commissioner, Endowment Department and Deputy Commissioner Dakshina Kannada, regarding the loss to the exchequer. Somanna said that he will discuss with the CM to make a member belonging to the Vishwakarma community a member of the trust.

'Why more funds for burial grounds than for localities'

Belagavi: Congress leader Krishna Byre Gowda hit out at the state government for allegedly releasing more funds for the development of burial grounds than for the residential areas in KGF Assembly constituency in the past three years. Gowda took the government to task for allegedly neglecting areas where SC/ST people reside by not providing any basic amenities. "Why are more funds granted to areas where nobody lives and why less funds for the areas where people reside? This shows something is not right." the former minister added.

'Ram Mandir in Karnataka similar to Ayodhya temple'

ENS @Belagavi

THE decision to construct a Ram Mandir in Karnataka will be announced in the next state budget, Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan has said. Speaking to the media at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha on Wednesday, the minister said, "Similar to the Ram Mandir being built in Ayodhya in North India, a Ram Mandir will be constructed in Karnataka."

He said Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath will be visiting Karnataka to inspect the land to be identified for the temple.

Commenting on Union Home Minister Amit Shah's visit to the state, he said Shah's visit is not linked to the upcoming elections in the state. He said the Election Commission will announce the poll dates at an appropriate time.

I can construct temple on my own, says HDK

JDS leader and former CM HD Kumaraswamy on Wednesday slammed the State Government's decision to invite Yogi Adityanath to lay the foundation stone for the proposed Ram Mandir at Ramadevarabetta hills in Ramanagara district.

"There is no need to bring the UP CM as the state of Karnataka is not bankrupt to that extent. I have the strength to construct the temple on my own. I can bring the religious heads of the Vokkaliga community and the Suttur seer as well for the foundation laying ceremony," he said at the JDS' 'pancharatna yatra' at Chikkanayakanahalli in Tumakuru district.

'Recruitment by Jan/Feb'

RECRUITMENT is expected to be completed by January/February 2023. A senior official from the state government said that the recruitment process started a month ago. There is severe shortage of staff in most of the departments. State government for various reasons, including Covid-19 pandemic, could not speed up the process. "Now, we are hoping to hire at least 50,000 people by the end of March 2023," the official said.

Speaking to The New Indian Express, Karnataka State Government Employees' Association president CS Shadakshari said that with shortage of staff, the employees who are currently working are overburdened with work. "We have been requesting the government to recruit people. One of the main obstacles for the government to recruit are court cases. As many as 45,000 posts are lying vacant due to legal hurdles. This includes teachers' recruitment where the department had finalised over 15,000 candidates. Government has to intervene and complete the recruitment process," he added.

Meanwhile, the government constituted the Seventh Pay Commission, headed by retired chief secretary Sudhakar Rao, to revise the salaries of government employees. "We are hoping CM Bommai will make an announcement in this regard in the state budget earlier next year," Shadakshari added.

Surjewala meets Zameer in Delhi

ENS @Bengaluru

AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala on Wednesday held a meeting with former minister and Chamrajpet MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan and discussed various issues including the 2023 Assembly polls in Karnataka. The meeting assumes significance as Zameer has been conspicuous by his absence at several events organised by the Congress recently.

According to sources, Surjewala met Zameer to boost his morale as the latter was upset after ED raids on his properties. Zameer had also met Telangana Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao at Hyderabad on the pretext of meeting MLA Rohit Reddy as part of a business trip. This meeting necessitated Surjewala's meeting with Zameer, a source informed.

Surjewala met Zameer at the former's residence in the national capital. They discussed how to woo minority voters for the party.

Recently, Zameer was included in the list of the party's election committee to select the candidates for the Assembly polls and made in-charge of Gadag. Speaking to reporters soon after meeting Surjewala, Zameer called it a courtesy call.

Gowda to have final say on B-Forms

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Raichur

JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda will be the deciding authority on which candidates will get B-Forms for the upcoming assembly elections.

Gowda, who was in Manvi town of Raichur district on Wednesday, told reporters that people recommend names of candidates and suggest who should contest, but he is the final authority to give Form-B.

He declined to respond to rumours that Nikhil Kumaraswamy would contest from Mandya or Kanakapura, and expressed confidence that the JDS will get a majority in the elections. Gowda was in Manvi to attend the marriage of Raja Ramachandra Naik, brother of MLA Raja Venkatappa Naik and a mass marriage programme.

H D Kumaraswamy could not attend as he was busy with the Pancharatna programme in Tumakuru, he said. Gowda said debates are going on over constructing a Ram Mandir in Ramanagara, and wanted to know the relationship between the temple and minister CN Ashwath Narayan.

Bill aims at protecting interests of small farmers, says Ashoka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi

THE Karnataka Land Revenue (Third Amendment) Bill 2022, which aims at leasing government land to families illegally cultivating plantation crops on such lands, was passed in the Council on Wednesday.

The Bill envisages to lease out government land spread up to 25 acres to the families which are utilising it for illegal cultivation to grow plantation crops like coffee, arecanut, rubber and cardamom.

While the cut off date for the scheme is January 2005, the families, which are possessing the land parcel prior to that date, are eligible and the land will be leased to them for 30 years from the date of the lease signed. The government will roll out the scheme soon after the Governor gives his ascent to the Bill, which is expected to be passed in the Assembly on Thursday.

While the scheme will be implemented in the districts like Kodagu, Chikkamagluru, Hassan, and Shivamogga, where plantation crops are mainly cultivated, the eligible beneficiaries can approach the deputy commissioner of their respective district to get the lease.

LAND REVENUE (THIRD AMENDMENT) BILL

Revenue Minister R Ashoka, who presented the Bill, said that the objective of the Bill is to help planters with small land holdings. He said the scheme is meant to protect the interest of small farmers and the land holders will not be permitted to utilise the land parcel for commercial exploitation such as developing resorts or homestay.

KPME BILL PASSED

The Council also passed The Karnataka Private Medical Establishment (Amendment) Bill, 2002 which envisages to replace the chief commissioner of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) as the chairman of Registration and Grievances Redressal Authority by the deputy commissioner of Bengaluru urban district. Minister for Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhuswamy, who piloted on behalf of Health Minister K Sudhakar, said the BBMP commissioner was made the chairman of the authority during the Covid-19 pandemic through an amendment to the Act and now it is being replaced and the DC is being reinstated as the chairman.

Climate change brought intense rain, distress and losses to state

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS

YEAR 2022 brought huge loss to Karnataka in terms of human life, infrastructure and farm production due to natural disasters -- heavy rain, floods and sea erosion -- which experts say is due to global warming, a man-made mess.

Post the Covid-19 pandemic earlier this year, there was hope of a revival in infrastructure development and agricultural productivity, which was almost stagnant since the 2021 lockdown.

Pre-monsoon showers began early, in the last week of March, bringing much glee to the farming community, but experts say it was an environmental disaster as indicator species, like amphibians, mistook the early showers for the monsoon and began the breeding season. However, the rainfall fizzled out after farming preparations began, and started playing hide and seek, with the drizzle and delay drying the earth. Fears of a drought loomed large across the state in both dry areas and Western Ghats.

When the monsoon returned in July, the agriculture and horticulture sectors were badly hit. Sowing done in early April and May had either dried up or plants were infected by pests. Rainfall continued, though it was severe in drier areas and was termed 'below normal'.

The districts of Gadag, Koppal. Ballari, Raichur, Kalaburagi, Tumakuru, Bengaluru, Chikkaballapur, Kolar, Davangere, Chitradurga, Haveri, Vijayanagara, Vijayapura, Bagalkot witnessed heavy rainfall, while Uttara Kannada, Dakshina Kannada, Udupi, Belagavi, Shivamogga and other places got deficit rainfall. In August, Gadag, Bengaluru, parts of Uttara Kannada and Dakshina Kannada came under high-intensity rain which brought flash floods.

Kumta-based senior scientist Prof MD Subhash Chandran says, "Rainfall has become highly unpredictable. There was high-intensity sporadic rainfall in many places. It began three years ago and is increasing. It doesn't mean total quantity of rainfall has increased, but is exceptionally high on a single day."

Dakshina Kannada, Gadag, Koppal, places like Binaga near Karwar, where the INS Kadamba Naval Base is housed, and parts of Bhatkal taluk witnessed such incidents in the first week of August. On August 3, Bhatkal received record rainfall of 533mm, leading to floods, sea erosion, loss of road infrastructure, bridges, canals and property, and human casualties in 27 districts, where close to 200 villages were hit and more than 30,000 people were affected.

Over 100 people died due to floods, rain and landslides. In August, about 6 lakh hectares of crop were lost due to irregular rainfall, about 35,000 houses were either completely or severely damaged. According to the government, the total loss was Rs 7500 crore this year.

Dry land regions which usually receive scanty rainfall, like Tumakuru, Chikkaballapur, Chitradurga, Koppal, Ballari and Raichur received heavy rainfall, which severely damaged crops. "Farmers grow chilli, particularly Byadagi chilli, which is lucrative. Rainfall was good, but began again harvest time, so the crop began to rot or was infected by pest. It was the same with green gram, Bengal gram and toor dal, due to severe change in temperature," said Anand Teertha Pyati, agriculture expert.

According to him, this is due to change in weather conditions over the past three years. "The only crops that survived were maize and cotton," he said. TV Ramachandra, senior scientist, Energy and Wetland Research Centre, Centre for Ecological Sciences, IISc, said it is linked to land use change. "Floods, landslides in Uttara Kannada, Dakshina Kannada and other places is due to climate change. Deforestation and unplanned development are the root cause. Mitigation measures should be part of planning," he said.

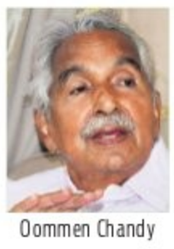
SOLAR SCAM: CBI CLEAN CHIT TO CHANDY IN SEXUAL ASSAULT CASE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

THE CBI has given clean chit to former Kerala chief minister Oommen Chandy in the sexual assault case connected to the sensational solar scam. The development has come as a setback to the LDF government, which had handed over the case, involving several top UDF leaders, to the central agency in February 2021.

In its report submitted before the chief judicial magistrate court here on Tuesday, the CBI also let BJP national vice-president A P Abdullakutty, who was earlier with the Congress, off the hook. With this, all the accused in the case have been deemed innocent by the agency.

In a Facebook post on Wednesday, Chandy said his public life had been an open book. The senior Congress leader, who is undergoing treatment for a throat problem in Bengaluru, said everyone should introspect whether it is right to level baseless allegations and brand someone as tainted.



Oommen Chandy

According to the CBI report, there is no evidence to prove the charges against Chandy. It said he was not present at Cliff House, the official residence of the CM, on the day of the crime as alleged by the complainant.

The CBI said there were discrepancies in the complainant's statements. She had also accused Abdullakutty of raping her at Mascot Hotel in Thiruvananthapuram. The CBI said there was no evidence to prove this either.

Five days ago, the CBI had given clean chit to AICC general secretary K C Venugopal in the case, citing lack of evidence. Though Venugopal and the complainant had met on various occasions, there was no proof to substantiate her claims of sexual assault. The complainant had levelled allegations of rape and sexual harassment against Congress MLA A P Anil Kumar and MPs Hibi Eden and Adoor Prakash.

RTI activist murder: Plaint filed with NHRC

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE murder of RTI activist Murthy on December 22 is taking a political turn, though police have tried to brush it off as a consequence of a family dispute. Murthy's family member and advocate Shilpa Rani filed a complaint with the National Human Rights Commission, alleging that the murder was due to his RTI activism and not a family dispute, as alleged. It is said that he was threatening to expose the scams of the local panchayat in Sathanur.

To back her statement, Shilpa Rani produced two police FIRs, one dated July 2022 when Murthy was assaulted by the same persons who are said to be behind his murder, and a second FIR dated October, when his house with attacked with beer bottles and other projectiles, again by the same group.

Rani alleged that they were warning him to stop his RTI activism, and resorted to murder when he failed to heed the warnings. One particular relative had warned that they would kill him if he did not end his RTI activism.

Commonwealth Human Rights Initiative Director Venkatesh Nayak said it is common to brush off murders of RTI activists as family disputes, and there are many such instances in Maharashtra. He said given the trend of acquittals in most such killings in Karnataka, it remains to be seen whether the Sathanur police will probe the activism angle in Murthy's case and identify the conspirators who masterminded the attack on him.

Statistics reveal that there have been 104 murders of RTI activists across the nation, of which 11 were in Karnataka. There are also about 184 instances of RTI activists getting assaulted nationally, and 18 cases were recorded in Karnataka. There have been no convictions in Karnataka until now.

On the police response, Shilpa Rani pointed out that although the murder took place on December 22, police only registered an FIR the next day. She also alleged that in the previous two cases of assault against Murthy, police registered a counter-case where the accused had made allegations against Murthy in return. She also alleged that in the July 2022 case, police are yet to file a chargesheet after five months, though it has to be mandatorily done in three months.

Govt extracting double revenue from us, say quarry owners

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AS many as 14,320 members and representatives of Federation of Karnataka Quarry and Crusher Owners Association staged a massive protest against the state government in Belagavi on Wednesday. Among many demands, the protesters said that the government should not demand excess royalty. They claimed that most of them have already paid royalty and questioned as to why they were being penalised to pay more. They alleged that it amounted to extracting double revenue from them.

The protesters threatened to launch a 'Bangalore Chalo' march in the first week of January if their demands are not met.

Minister for Mines Halappa Achar met the protesters and assured them of taking up their demands with the government. The matter has been conveyed to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai who reportedly said that he would need a week's time to respond to the demands, as the government is busy with the winter session of Karnataka Legislative Assembly.

The protesters pointed out to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's one-nation-one-tax policy and questioned why it was not being applied here. "If there is one tax, why are we being made to pay more," asked Ravindra Shetty, president of the association.

The association also threatened to take up the matter with Union minister Nitin Gadkari if the state authorities do not respond to their demands. State government sources have expressed concern that developmental work across the state may get affected because of the protest. There is also concern that the state authorities may invoke Essential Services Maintenance Act (ESMA).

DYNAST POLITICS ASIDE, DMK MUST UPLIFT GRASSROOTS CADRE

The DMK ends 2022 in a fairly strong political position in Tamil Nadu. With the principal opposition party, the AIADMK, still in disarray, the BJP yet to prove a serious challenger, and no major controversies having erupted over its year and a half in government, the DMK recently made use of the opportunity to elevate party scion Udhayanidhi Stalin to a ministerial role. Charges of a dynastic rule are hardly new to the Dravidian major.

Late leader M Karunanidhi was a stalwart of the Dravidian movement that altered the state's trajectory, arguably for the better, and his legacy casts a large shadow. But for all his achievements, critics saw his family as his Achilles' heel. Even then, his son, current party chief and Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin, had no easy road to the top. By the time he became a minister in the 2006–11 DMK government, he had already won his MLA seat four times, and been twice elected (directly) Mayor of the Chennai Corporation.

Udhayanidhi has had a much easier journey. The actor-producer/distributor entered active politics in 2018. By the following year, he was made head of the DMK's youth wing. In 2021, he was elected MLA and this year, after completing his film assignments, he became a member of his father's cabinet. His dizzying rise is, of course, a product of dynastic politics in a party with several second and third-generation leaders. In an ideology-based party like the DMK, children of leaders and cadres entering politics is probably inevitable.

The true test for the party is in the calibre of these younger leaders and whether their rise comes at the cost of other talented, committed party faithful. Stalin, for one, has proved himself as a broadly capable administrator, as have some other 'dynasts' such as finance minister Palanivel Thiaga Rajan and industries minister Thangam Thennarasu. Udhayanidhi's behind-the-scenes Kollywood career suggests potential as an administrator. However, the party and its leadership must guard against the kind of sycophancy that has wrecked its ally, the Congress, and continue to nurture and elevate grassroots cadre, who are the backbone of the DMK.

CPM NEEDS CORRECTION TO HOLD FORT IN KERALA

One thing that keeps the CPM distinct is its willingness to undergo introspection and its ability to undertake requisite course corrections. Taking a cue from the electoral and political setback in West Bengal, where the Left was in power for over three decades, the Kerala CPM has initiated a massive rectification campaign to weed out growing bourgeoisie tendencies in the party, especially after the Left retained power in the state. Right from the state secretariat to the lowest fraction of branch committees, all units will undergo an elaborate and exhaustive process of self-criticism, assessment and correction. After detailed discussions, the CPM has issued its nod for the document on 'Contemporary politics and party's immediate responsibilities in the organisational sector'.

Noticeably, CPM cadres and leaders have been facing a slew of charges. Widespread incidents of alcoholism and drug abuse among party cadres, cases of sexual assault, and allegations of financial irregularities and corrupt practices are on the rise. In addition, cadres and leaders have a growing tendency to indulge in regressive social practices. Also, there's a deviation from the guidelines laid out for the lifestyle to be followed by party leaders. Close on the heels of the rectification move, reports surfaced about senior leader P Jayarajan raising allegations against LDF convener E P Jayarajan for amassing wealth.

It's not the first time fingers have been pointed at E P Jayarajan for deviations from party norms for leaders' lifestyles. However, this time around, it could assume significance, given the state leadership's determination to eliminate bourgeois tendencies erupting within the party.

The Kerala CPM's rectification move has been endorsed by the central leadership, which is also planning to do the same at the national level. It's not the first time the CPM is going for such a massive rectification process. Earlier, in 1996 and 2009, the central party had carried out such an elaborate process. Later, the Kerala unit undertook a similar initiative in 2013. It's time the CPM introspects why decisions taken at the Kolkata and Kozhikode plenums have not been implemented so far. Other than vowing a self-purification each time, the party has done precious little to enact it on the ground. It's time the party took itself to task and made course correction a reality if it is to retain its only bastion in the country.

QUICK TAKE

TECH DRIVE FOR ALL-WEATHER CROPS

The National Innovations in Climate Resilient Agriculture is a government initiative to help farmers in regions prone to extreme weather conditions to sustain crop production through tech intervention. The concept is appealing and welcome: Develop location-specific weather-resilient technologies for farm use. IoT devices can examine and help optimise land for maximum yields. Drone cameras can monitor nitrogen absorption to avoid fertiliser overuse. Agrobots and smart tractors can replace most manual functions. The aim is also to modernise agriculture and increase profit margins. Two questions invariably arise. Can small farmers avail of such technology? The fate of agricultural labourers technology displaces?

Irrespective of where he makes his next home, Rajapaksa will have the Sword of Damocles hanging over his head, eluding a retreat from the prying eyes of the public

MARCOS' TALE A KEY LESSON FOR GOTABAYA AND CLAN

DILRUKSHI HANDUNNETTI

Executive Director of the Colombo-based Center for Investigative Reporting and a lawyer by training

SOURAV ROY

The year 2022 proved tumultuous for Gotabaya Rajapaksa, Sri Lanka's eighth executive president. Here's a man who was swept into power with an unprecedented mandate to protect sovereignty and the interests of the majority, only to be unceremoniously ousted in less than two years by the same people who elevated him to high office.

The populist leader offered a 'system reset'—a heady concoction of allegations like international conspiracies, islamophobia, and minority hatred were the ingredients of his political campaign. Gotabaya epitomised identity politics and had people eating out of his palm for a while. His popularity even surpassed that of his brother, Mahinda, considered the most popular leader in present-day mainstream politics.

His misplaced trust, poor judgement and hasty decision-making may be history now, but there are unresolved issues even a fleeing president cannot avoid. He appears to have made a complete U-turn to return to his adopted home, the United States, after the controversial relinquishing of his American citizenship to stand for presidency in 2019.

On Boxing Day 2022, Rajapaksa and his wife left for the US via Dubai. Sources close to Rajapaksa said the 73-year-old ex-president wishes to spend his premature retirement with his son. The turn of events, barring some differences, may resonate with other dictators and their eventual fall from grace.

In another era, another dictator and kleptocrat (known for brutality and corruption) who branded his rule as 'constitutional authoritarianism' had to use his powerful connections at the US State Department to make a home in Hawaii. He too undertook massive infrastructure projects that increased the nation's foreign debt, drove high inflation and triggered a crushing debt crisis that brought people to the streets. He too was known as anti-communist, anti-Muslim, and anti-citizen.

Gotabaya and the entire Rajapaksa clan have several lessons to learn from the dark legacy of the Philippines dictator Ferdinand Marcos Sr. and his lavish wife, joint holders of the Guinness World Record for the largest-ever theft of government resources. The recent legacy of the Rajapaksas drives comparisons with the infamous Marcos' of the Philippines—including how they made nations bleed and sought refuge elsewhere.

Irrespective of where he makes his next home, Rajapaksa will have the Sword of Damocles hanging over his head, eluding peaceful retirement or a retreat from the prying eyes of the public. Relinquishing public office is only a partial response to the call for accountability. Rajapaksa owes the nation answers on multiple counts, ranging from human rights abuses during the final phase of the war, journalists' murders, systemic corruption, and the complete collapse of the economy due to gross mismanagement. An authoritarian leader who brooked no opposition until he was driven out, Gotabaya infamously engineered anti-democratic Constitutional amendments to enable his brothers to control the political destiny of the Sri Lankan people. The 20th Amendment removed the two-term restriction on executive presidency and enabled dual citizens to hold political office. Gotabaya will be (dis)credited for elevating the family power project to Asia's largest nepotism initiative, completing state capture by brothers, sons and nephews. Through this, democratic gains made through the 19th Amendment that depoliticised key public institutions were reversed without remorse.

Gotabaya returned home in 2005 after his brother Mahinda was elected president, to serve as the powerful and hand-picked defence secretary. He renounced his American citizenship under a cloud of doubt, to run for presidency in November 2019. Sixteen years later, he is on his way back to the US, where his wife Ioma is a permanent resident. Angry citizens have driven him from home and presidency while the world has watched the grand spectacle of an unwelcome president flitting from country to country.

Gotabaya Rajapaksa may now want to repair the relationship with his former home which had repeatedly faulted him for lack of accountability, governance and transparency.

The return of the prodigal may also inspire reactions similar to those experienced by Ferdinand Marcos, who was welcomed with a surfeit of lawsuits. On the other hand, it could be a quiet return home, which will depend on the understandings reached on his behalf by the Sri Lankan government. But to most Sri Lankans, he represents a festering cancer of family rule that had made Sri Lanka bleed.

Gotabaya Rajapaksa may be eager to put his past behind and move on. Unfortunately, the people of Sri Lanka cannot do so with ease. Their lives have been turned topsy-turvy and beyond recognition with no hope of a better morrow. The people may be too tired to protest. But this silence is one pregnant with suffering and seething anger, for they know what became of those who dared to protest: violent attacks and flimsy litigation. There had been no public explanation or a plan of action that included the recovery of any stolen assets.

When Marcos fled Manila with his wife and entourage, he was given a safe passage and lived in the lap of luxury in Hawaii, spending his ill-gotten wealth. Yet, he was greeted with a series of lawsuits. His wealth could not even secure him a burial in the Philippines' soil until years after his death.

What works in the Rajapaksas' collective favour is the incumbent president who has ensured not just their safety and well-being but also their return to mainstream politics, excluding Gotabaya. Instead, he is supported to make a new home elsewhere, while others have a fresh political playground to mess with the future of 22 million people. There is no doubt that Sri Lankans here and abroad will keep a keen eye on what becomes of Gotabaya in his new life in the United States and whether the US' system of justice may have its wheels turned now that he is no longer a serving president. People are bound to also watch how President Wickemesinghe may further facilitate the Rajapaksa clan to avoid being answerable to the people for grand corruption, kleptocracy and rights violations.

Should we also watch the United States carefully? We should. A country that has consistently questioned the regimes of Mahinda and Gotabaya Rajapaksa should now demonstrate its own commitment to fighting kleptocracy, economic crimes and rights abuses. The proof is in the pudding.

FOR BOOSTER, RELY ON OWN DATA

DR GAGANDEEP KANG

Professor, Christian Medical College, Vellore

When the news of Omicron emerged from Africa at the end of November 2021, and the world was unsure what this rapidly spreading variant could do, we had the recommendation for a "precautionary" dose. Booster doses had begun to be rolled out across high-income countries, but primary two-dose coverage in low-income countries continued to lag. In India, which had seen high death rates during April-May 2021, January 2022 brought many infections, many of which went untested and unreported. Although the precautionary dose was recommended, the Omicron wave was sharp and short, with an estimated 50–60% of the country infected within a few weeks. After that, we weathered the Omicron wave by mostly relying on two doses of vaccine with or without earlier infections. Although these did not protect us from infection with Omicron, they clearly protected us against severe disease and death.

The World Health Organisation recommended a booster dose with any available vaccine following its prioritisation framework of healthcare workers, the elderly, and those with comorbidities. This recommendation was based on data which showed that after about five months after vaccination with mRNA and adenovirus vectored vaccines, there was little protection against infection. However, there continued to be lower, but good, protection from severe disease and death.

Decisions on boosters are made based on whether vaccines are continuing to do what they are supposed to do, which is to protect the vaccinated from infection, disease or death in the real world. If vaccine-induced protection begins to decline, we can assess whether all people or some people, need to be given a booster and when. This needs a lot of data, and Israel, which turned its whole population into a living laboratory to show how mRNA vaccines worked, led the world in generating and using data.

Most countries which measured whether the vaccines worked in the real world used mRNA or adenovirus vectored vaccines, but data from Latin America showed that for primary immunisation, inactivated vaccines worked less effectively than adenovirus vectored vaccines. We now have data on boosters, mainly from high-income countries which used mRNA vaccines. There is also new data on bivalent boosters, which include the ancestral virus and Omicron, again from high-income countries, showing that in the elderly population, bivalent vaccines offer increased protection against severe disease and death.

In India, without data and vaccines different from the rest of the world, how do we decide on booster or 'precautionary' doses? The benefits of vaccination can be at two levels—the individual or the population.

For each individual, the goal is to protect against severe disease, and risks vary by age, other illnesses, and prior infections. For a generally healthy young person who has been vaccinated with two doses of vaccine and infected—as 90% of India has been, the risk of severe disease is low. Therefore, for a younger, healthier person, additional boosters are likely to have incremental benefits, not zero, but not huge.

> From a policy point of view, does India need a booster for its entire population? ... No data from the country indicates the need for a booster in any age or risk group

However, for an older person, or one who is immunocompromised or has other illnesses, in general, the primary series of vaccines offers lower protection, and an additional dose may increase protection. Boosters will greatly benefit older individuals than younger people. However, for those older individuals with hybrid immunity from the previous infection, benefits from booster doses will be less.

Which vaccines should be used as boosters depends largely on what is available, but based on both immunogenicity data from India and effectiveness data from Latin America, those who have received inactivated vaccines should consider protein or adenovirus vectored vaccines. The latter is not widely used in younger populations or as boosters in high-income countries but has been used in Asia and Latin America. One of the worries with adenovirus vectored vaccines is a rare side effect which leads to small clots (called TTS or thrombosis with thrombocytopenia syndrome). This happens only with the first dose, so if it has not happened with the first two doses, it will not happen with a booster. But protein vaccines might be even safer than any other vaccine.

Data-driven timing and frequency of boosting is evolving, but in general, a booster dose can be taken, if needed, with a three-month gap after infection or vaccination. This does not mean that a booster should be taken every three months, but just that when a booster or third dose is needed, the gap should be at least three months. In some parts of the world, a fourth dose is being recommended, but there is no evidence of the amount of benefit such boosting might have, particularly in the context of India, which has had high infection rates.

From a policy point of view, does India need a booster for its entire population? At this time, no data from India indicates the need for a booster dose in any age or risk group. This may be a lack of data on how well vaccines are doing, but while we need to build the systems to get the data we need, we also need to consider what our public health needs are today and for the projected future. What other health issues do we need to tackle, and what is the relative importance of this infection? Is there enough Covid-19 in India today or projected into the future to make booster doses worthwhile? In the absence of new variants that can escape the immune response and cause severe disease in younger people for which we will need new vaccines, our risk groups for severe disease will continue to be the elderly and those with comorbidities. If we are to use booster doses for our population, it is clear that it needs to be a targeted public health intervention to optimally use our resources to protect the most vulnerable.

More importantly, we need to understand that Covid-19 is not going to go away, so if we are to make rational decisions on vaccination and boosting, we need to design and conduct the studies that will give us the answers we need in the shortest possible time. Relying on data from elsewhere to evolve our policy is no longer appropriate for 21st-century India.

India's Opposition

Apropos of Opposition stuck in a blind alley sans cohesion (Dec 28). Apropos of Walking with Rahul Gandhi (Dec 28). Rahul's yatra has captured the imagination of the masses. He has always been the butt of ridicule, but the yatra has been a pilgrimage. Apropos of Walking with Rahul Gandhi (Dec 28). Rahul is yet to taste realpolitik. He has come out of his political cocoon; his yatra has made some impact. Celebrities have joined, adding the much needed media blitz to the event. But he has to walk a long way before reviving the Congress.

A frightened BJP

Apropos of Walking with Rahul Gandhi (Dec 28). The huge support for the yatra is frightening the BJP. The walk is helping Rahul portray his character as polite and unambitious, as a leader trying to bring India together by just walking peacefully, the way Mahatma Gandhi did.

Apropos of Chanda Kochhar arrest sparks more questions, less answers (Dec 28). This is eye-opening for the powers that are in charge of dealing with economic offences. Idea of India under attack: Kharge

Cong chief says people being hit by inflation, unemployment but government not bothered

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

Stepping up his attack against the Bharatiya Janata Party, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge on Wednesday said that the fundamentals of India are being attacked and the society is being 'divided by hate'.

Speaking to party leaders and workers at the 138th foundation day of the Congress at the AICC headquarters in Delhi, Kharge said people are being hit by inflation and unemployment but the government is not concerned.

"The fundamentals of India are being continuously attacked. The society is being divided by hate, people are hit by price rise and unemployment but the government is least bothered," he said.

Kharge also hoisted the party flag in the presence of former Congress presidents Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi, and other senior leaders. Speaking about the party's journey, he said India emerged as a modern nation due to Congress' faith in the Constitution and its inclusive ideology.

"Around the time of India's Independence, many other countries also became independent. But in many countries dictatorship took the reins of power. India not only became a successful and strong democracy, but in a few decades, we became a superpower in several fields," he said.

He added that the Congress passed the Karachi resolution during the Independence movement and prepared a blueprint for development in independent India by forming a planning committee.

"Because of the preparation, when our nation became independent, it did not disintegrate but kept on moving forward with strength," he said.

"Nehru made five out of 14 ministers from non-Congress parties in his first cabinet. This shows a principle of taking everyone along," he added.

The fundamentals of India are being continuously attacked. The society is being divided by hate, people are hit by price rise and unemployment but the government is least bothered

Mallikarjun Kharge, Congress president

Kharge elaborated that the Congress resolves to protect India's borders, social fabric and rights of all citizens, promoting education, scientific thinking, and education and employment for the people.

"Under the UPA government, initiatives like RTI, RTE, Food Security Act, MGNREGA have benefited India," he said.

Urging people to take part in the Bharat Jodo Yatra, Kharge also said that to make the party inclusive, Congress has to involve youth, women, marginalised sections and intellectuals.

"The yatra has shown that Congress ideology is finding huge support among people. This has created panic among our opponents," he added.

Can HP victory, Rahul's Yatra propel Cong to its lost glory?

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

HOPE floats for Congress as 2022 has woken up the grand old party from its deep slumber. Two important events — the election of a non-Gandhi as the party president and Rahul Gandhi's Bharat Jodo Yatra are expected to give a fresh lease of life to its sagging fortunes.

With the next two years packed with several Assembly elections and the crucial Lok Sabha polls, it is set to be a do-or-die battle for Congress.

Challenges are plenty for the party, as it hopes to cash in on the goodwill and momentum gained by the Bharat Jodo Yatra, which covers 3,500 km over 150 days between Kanyakumari and Srinagar. Though the party hopes that the yatra will give Rahul a makeover from a party leader into a national leader, it is too early to say if he can translate the march into votes.

However, the recent Gujarat Assembly election results and Delhi MCD poll have illustrated Congress' unpreparedness and complacency while taking on the mammoth machinery of the Bharatiya Janata Party. The win in Himachal Pradesh polls may be a consolation for the party which has seen successive electoral setbacks.

Party facing do-or-die battle in next two years

With the next two years packed with several Assembly polls and the Lok Sabha polls, it is set to be a do-or-die battle for Congress. Challenges are plenty for the party, as it hopes to cash in on the goodwill and momentum gained by the Bharat Jodo Yatra

YearEnder 2022

However, the Gujarat debacle turned out to be a big blow. With the party facing an unprecedented challenge from Aam Aadmi Party in Punjab, Gujarat, Delhi and Goa, the Congress machinery will have to work overtime to turn the tide in its favour.

For the new party president Mallikarjun Kharge, the immediate challenge is to reclaim the seat of power in Karnataka, his home state. The upcoming elections in Tripura, Meghalaya, and Nagaland will also be a litmus test as the polls will set the tone for the general elections.

Besides bracing for the poll battle, setting the house in order will be the Karnataka stalwart's crucial test in the days to come. Though the party has been successful in keeping factionalism in poll-bound Rajasthan under control for now, the cracks may resurface anytime.

Likewise, the internal strife in Karnataka, Chhattisgarh, Madhya Pradesh and Telangana may spell trouble for its electoral prospects there. The Congress is also aware that the battle against the BJP can be won only through a strategic alliance with regional satraps. Many feel that Kharge can work out a mutually beneficial tie-up with regional parties.

In terms of internal workings, Congress has a long way to go as its presidential poll was marred by charges of lack of democracy. The questions raised by the ginger group G-23 are still relevant, they say. With the party's plenary session scheduled in February, the key question of holding an election to the Congress Working Committee will be keenly watched.

On track: From rly station makeover to launch of Vande Bharat Express

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IT was a year of gruelling performance for the Indian Railways in 2022 that saw changes and challenges in every sector after it moved out of the previous two years of Covid-19. The 2021-22 financial years saw losses in services and earnings.

Continuing freight service operations in 2021, the railways remained focused on passenger services and infrastructure development in 2022 by making the year's first announcement on January 1, allowing the passengers to travel without reservation in general train coaches. Then came an era of modernisation: stations were refurbished, new trains and technology were introduced, and after sustained efforts, Vande Bharat trains were rolled out.

YearEnder 2022

As the year moved on, the railways worked on the station redevelopment as the main focus area to enhance customer satisfaction. As many as 572 outlets were set up under the first-of-its-kind 'One Station One Product' scheme at 535 stations.

In 2022, the railway took a giant step in the safety sector and installed an indigenously developed anti-collision device called 'Kavach.' The watershed moment in 2022 was the induction of the country's first indigenously developed semi-high speed Vande Bharat train on a mission mode with a resolve to roll out 400 such trains by 2023-24, and 75 until August 2023. Six Vande Bharat trains are currently in service and the 7th is to be flagged off by PM Modi on December 30 in West Bengal.

In the freight sector, the year 2022 remained more supportive of the railways than ever before. It earned ₹1,05,905 crore against ₹91,127 crore over the last year, registering an increase of 16% compared to the earnings in the same period last year.

Upgrading 80,000 supervisors' ranks were brought into effect in 2022 after years of demand. It introduced the Human Resource Management System to ensure transparency and accountability in the entire process relating to inter-railway transfers on all grounds.

Amid efforts to fill vacant posts, the railways also surrendered 27,043 posts in 2022. However, it notified 103769 vacancies for Level 1 posts (erstwhile Group 'D' posts) in 2022. As it persists with India's first high-speed bullet train, the railways completed more than 80% of the basic work in Gujarat and cleared the hurdles for land acquisition in Maharashtra, setting a tentative target of running the Bullet Train by 2027.

Puri launches initiatives to rank cities on financial performance & beauty

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE ministry of housing and urban affairs on Wednesday launched two initiatives to rank cities based on their financial performance and beautification. One of them is 'City Finance Rankings 2022', which aims to evaluate, recognise and reward urban local bodies (ULBs) on the basis of their strength across three financial parameters — resource mobilisation, expenditure performance and fiscal governance systems. The second mechanism, 'City Beauty Competition', is to encourage and recognise the transformational efforts made by cities and wards in India to create beautiful, innovative and inclusive public spaces.

"India has embarked on the most ambitious plan for urban rejuvenation undertaken anywhere in the world. A healthy sense of competition gives the best performing cities a sense of pride," Housing and Urban Affairs minister Hardeep Singh Puri said at the launch. He also released the guidelines for the ranking systems.

The idea of the initiative, Puri said, came from Prime Minister Narendra Modi. "When he (PM) met the chief secretaries of all the states in June, he outlined a vision of a pan-India ranking of the cities to foster a healthy competition among the municipal bodies in the matter of finances... There is realisation among local bodies that if you have healthy finances, transparent procedures, then the land value goes up. That is the beauty of this venture," Puri said.

For finance ranking, the ULBs will be evaluated on 15 indicators across parameters of resource mobilization, expenditure performance and fiscal governance.

Under the 'City Beauty Competition', wards and public places would be judged on the basis of accessibility, amenities, aesthetics and ecology. "It is hoped that healthy competition amongst wards and cities would encourage urban local bodies to improve their infrastructure, and make the urban spaces beautiful, sustainable and inclusive," said the ministry.

Worrying security breaches in Rahul's Yatra, Cong tells govt

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

FLAGGING significant security breaches in the Rahul Gandhi-led Bharat Jodo Yatra, the Congress on Wednesday wrote to Union home minister Amit Shah urging him to take immediate steps to ensure his safety is not compromised.

In his letter, AICC general secretary K C Venugopal said the security of the Yatra was compromised on multiple occasions while on its entry into Delhi on December 24. He alleged that Delhi Police failed to control the crowd and maintain a perimeter around Rahul, who is assigned Z-plus security.

"The situation was so severe that the Congress workers and the yatris walking along with Rahul Gandhi had to form the perimeter," he said.

During the Yatra's Haryana leg, too, unknown persons allegedly belonging to the Haryana state intelligence entered the containers that serve as mobile dwelling units for the yatris, he said. "Congress had filed an FIR dated 23rd December at Sohna City Police Station in Haryana regarding unknown miscreants, belonging to Haryana State Intelligence, have been illegally entering Bharat Jodo Yatra's containers in Haryana," the letter read.

The Bharat Jodo Yatra is slated to enter the sensitive states of Punjab and J&K in the next phase. After its nine-day break, the Yatra will resume on January 3 from Kashmere Gate in Delhi and enter UP the same afternoon.

Venugopal recalled that the Congress lost prime ministers Indira Gandhi and Rajiv Gandhi to terror attacks. Besides, the party's entire leadership in Chhattisgarh was wiped out in a Naxal attack in 2013.

UP redraws policy for jobs on compassionate ground

No termination, only demotion on failing to clear typing test: Govt

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

'Will be sacked only if they fail to join in time'

New order says the appointee, who got job on compassionate grounds in Group C, will not be sacked on failing to clear typing test within two years of service

Such an employee will be demoted and given a fresh appointment in Class 4. Their services will be terminated only if they fail to join in time

Dependents of those who die in service were required to clear typing test within two years of getting govt emplomen, failing which they were dismissed

IN a major administrative decision, the Uttar Pradesh government, in a bid to facilitate benefits for the dependents getting government jobs on compassionate grounds, has amended Service Rules-1974 easing the norms for them. Instead of terminating their services on failing to fulfill a condition within two years of their appointment, the government will now give them fresh appointments but in a lower grade.

The order was passed by Additional Chief Secretary, Personnel, Dr Devesh Chaturvedi, on Tuesday. It says the dependents of those who die while being in service, are usually given a direct appointment in Group C on compassionate grounds provided they have a graduation degree.

After getting the job, the new appointees, so far, were required to clear a typing test within two years of getting govt emplomen, failing which they were dismissed.

As per the latest order, the new appointee, who has got a job on compassionate grounds in Group C, will not be sacked on failing to clear the typing test within two years of service. Such an employee will be demoted and given a fresh appointment in Class 4. Their services will be terminated only if they fail to join in time.

As per the process so far, if the new job entrant failed to clear the typing test in the first year of service, he was not given the annual financial hike. But if they did not clear the test in the second year as well, they were fired. Such candidates were made to sign a bond at the time of appointment.

Senior officials said the dependents, when fired on failing to fulfill the condition of clearing the typing test within two years of service, would often move High Court. "The departments, in such a case, were made to give explanations in courts which, sometimes, used to pass orders for their reinstatement," said an official, adding that considering the aspect, the department of personnel and appointment wanted a permanent solution.

As per the new order, such appointees would now be demoted on failing to clear the test instead of getting sacked. "This move would not only benefit the appointees but also relieve the department concerned from frequent court appearances," said the official.

Earlier, the state had allowed dependent children of teachers and non-teaching staff of govt-aided secondary schools eligible for jobs on compassionate grounds.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

THE BJP, which rules Tripura, suffered yet another blow on Wednesday when its Karamchara MLA Diba Chandra Hrangkhawl resigned from the Assembly as well as the party.

He is the fifth BJP legislator to have ditched the party and eighth overall of the BJP-Indigenous People's Front of Tripura (IPFT) coalition. The state is expected to go to elections in February.

Hrangkhawl, 67, is a tribal leader and four-time MLA who was first elected in 1988. He told reporters he had resigned from the Assembly and the party on personal grounds. "I will soon decide my future course of action," he said.

Congress sources later said he would join the party at a programme in state capital Agartala on Thursday. He has a Congress past.

Hrangkhawl was reportedly livid that the BJP leadership did not consider him for ministership or any other important responsibility.

Some Congress leaders, including Ashish Kumar Saha, accompanied Hrangkhawl when he went to submit his resignation to Assembly secretary Bishnu Pada Karmakar in the absence of Speaker Ratan Chakraborty.

Will complain to Shah on frivolous remarks of K'taka leaders: Fadnavis

Bommai's anti-Maha statement, says Pawar

Leader of Opposition Ajit Pawar said Karnataka CM Basavaraj Bommai was making anti-Maharashtra statements. The demand for making Mumbai as UT is like rubbing salt over the wounds of Maharashtra and the Marathi people living on the Karnataka border, said Pawar

IN the escalating showdown over the boundary row, Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis condemned Karnataka leaders for making frivolous claims over Mumbai and for making Mumbai the Union Territory.

He said Mumbai belongs to Maharashtra only, and that no one can lay one's claim over it.

He said the state government will complain against Karnataka leaders to Home Minister Amit Shah for their frivolous statements.

While speaking in the state assembly in Nagpur, Fadnavis said the Maharashtra House passed a resolution demanding 865 Marathi-speaking villages of Karnataka, which is in tandem with the case pending in the Supreme Court.

He said the claim by the Karnataka minister, MLAs and the state Congress chief violated the agreement made with Karnataka CM Basvaraj Bommai. "Their claim over Mumbai is completely wrong. We will not tolerate such a claim. We condemn such acts of Karnataka leaders. The violations of the agreement finalized before the Home Minister is not good for the bilateral relationship of the two states. We will convey the message in strong words to them," said Deputy chief minister.

Leader of the Opposition Ajit Pawar said the Karnataka CM was making anti-Maharashtra statements. "We are not strong, therefore, they are issuing such statements and hurting our sentiments," he said.

The demand for making Mumbai as UT is like rubbing salt over the wounds of Maharashtra and the Marathi people living on the Karnataka border, said Pawar. "The sentiments of Maharashtra should be conveyed to the Union Home Minister," he said.

Maharashtra will be the first state in the country to have the Lokayukta Act.

State's School Education Minister Deepak Kesarkar tabled the Maharashtra Lokayukta Bill 2022 and it was unanimously passed without a debate in the state legislative assembly's winter session in Nagpur. No member of the opposition was present when the bill was passed in the house.

Deputy Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis said the ruling BJP-Balasaheb's Shiv Sena government was committed to bringing transparency. He said the government has appointed a committee to receive suggestions and objections from social activist Anna Hazare.

"This Act empowers Lokayukta to conduct an inquiry into the allegations, grievances, and complaints of corruption against certain public servants and elected representatives. The ombudsman can submit its probe report to the state government for action. Besides, anyone can file a case against the chief minister, ministers and elected representatives," said Fadnavis.

"While empowering the Lokayukta, we have also ensured to put up some filters such as actions against the person if he or she files a false and wrong case against elected representatives," said Fadnavis.

The draft bill also held that the Lokayukta will not inquire into any matter involving any allegations of corruption against the chief minister if it relates to internal security or public order.

As per the draft, the Lokayukta has the powers of a civic court in some cases. As per the Act, before initiating a probe involving the chief minister, the Lokayukta has to seek the prior approval of the Maharashtra state legislative assembly. The motion shall be passed in the next session of the assembly with not less than two-thirds majority in the House.

No transfer from Valley: Pandit staffers move CAT

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THE PM package Kashmiri Pandit employees, who are on strike since May 12, have adopted two pronged strategy – legal path by moving Central Administrative Tribunal (CAT) and reaching out to government through BJP – to force the government to accept their demand for relocation to Jammu due to security concerns.

Two PM package Pandit employees Boopinder Bhat and Yogesh Pandita have moved the CAT against J&K government order prohibiting transfer of employees recruited under the Prime Minister's special job package.

About 5,500-odd PM package Pandit employees are on strike and have not resumed their duties in Valley since May 12 when a Pandit employee was shot dead by militants inside his office in Budgam.

The administration has stopped their salaries from August with the Lt Governor recently making it clear that those sitting at homes won't be given salaries.

In their plea in CAT, the two Pandit employees have challenged sub-rule 4 of rule 4 and of J&K Kashmiri Migrants (Special Drive) Recruitment Rules, 2009, which provides that "in case the appointee migrates from valley again for any reason whatsoever, he shall lose the job without any notice and shall stand terminated".

The plea has demanded quashing of sub-rule 6 of rule 6 J&K Kashmiri Migrants (Special Drive) Recruitment Rules, 2009, which provides that "the appointee under these rules shall have to work within Kashmir and shall not be eligible for transfer outside the valley under any circumstances."

Flyers from China could face Covid screening in US

Washington: The US is considering Covid entry restrictions for travellers from China, US officials said, after Beijing loosened hardline containment measures. Infections have surged across China as key pillars of its containment policy have been dismantled, prompting US to express concern at potential for new variants to be unleashed. "There are mounting concerns in the international community on the ongoing Covid-19 surges in China and the lack of transparent data... being reported from the PRC," the US officials said. It is the lack of genomic data that has sparked particular concern abroad. Meanwhile, Italy is making coronavirus tests for visitors from China mandatory, the health minister said on Wednesday.

Bakhmut is covered with blood: Zelenskyy

KYIV

UKRAINIAN President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said on Wednesday that "only a few civilians" were left in the eastern frontline town of Bakhmut that has endured months of fierce fighting.

"Last year, 70,000 people lived there. Now only a few civilians are left there," Zelenskyy said on Facebook.

Following months of humiliating defeats, Russian forces are now seeking to wrest control of the eastern region of Donetsk where Bakhmut has become the epicentre of fighting.

To gain control of the town once known for its vineyards and cavernous salt mines, Russia has relied on mercenaries, prison conscripts and newly mobilised soldiers.

In Bakhmut, "there is no place that is not covered with blood. There is no hour when the terrible roar of artillery does not sound," Zelenskyy said. "Still, Bakhmut stands," he added.

This month, the president made a surprise trip to Bakhmut, describing the war-battered town as Ukraine's frontline 'fortress.'

Earlier on Wednesday, the Ukrainian army said Moscow's forces were continuing 'offensive actions' in the direction of Bakhmut.

Yevgeny Prigozhin, the founder of Russia's Wagner mercenary group, has called the fight for the city the "Bakhmut meat grinder."

Meanwhile, France's defence minister arrived in Kyiv on Wednesday to discuss further military support for Ukraine, insisting the French government's backing is unflagging while efforts are made to reach an eventual negotiated end to Russia's invasion.

French Minister for the Armed Forces Sebastien Lecornu travelled to Ukraine's capital after a trip to Poland, where he announced a deal on Tuesday to sell Poland two French-made military satellites. Agencies

SACHIN KUMAR @ New Delhi

BANKING sector witnessed a rise in cases of fraud in the first six months of current financial year.

The number of cases during April- September period of this year have gone up to 5,406 from 4,069 in the same period in financial year 2021-22, according to a report released by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

However, the amount involved in banking frauds has fallen. The total value of frauds stood at ₹19,485 crore during April-September this year, which was significantly less than ₹36,316 crore reported by banks in the same period in 2021-22, as per the 'Report on Trend and Progress of Banking in India 2021-22'. "The number of fraud cases reported by private sector banks outnumbered those by public sector banks for the second consecutive year in 2021-22. In terms of the amount involved, however, the share of PSBs was 66.7% in 2021-22, compared with 59.4% in the previous year," noted the report. The maximum number of frauds were witnessed in online banking. Banks reported 2,321 cases of frauds in the cards or internet-based transactions involving nearly ₹87 crore during the first six months of the current financial year, which was much higher than last year. Banks had reported 1,532 cases of frauds in cards/internet category involving ₹60 crore in the first six month of FY 2021-22. While cards or internet-based transactions were in top in terms of number of transactions, 'advances-related frauds' topped in terms of money involved.

Budget: FM may tweak TDS on cash withdrawal

Provision dealing with tax deducted at source on cash withdrawals made applicable from September 1, 2019

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

IN order to mitigate the challenges faced by banks in complying with the section 194N, which provides for tax deduction at source (TDS) at the rate of 2% on cash withdrawal beyond specified limit, finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman may announce amendment in this section in the upcoming budget 2023-24, according to sources in the know.

This provision dealing with TDS on cash withdrawals was made applicable from September 1, 2019. A banking company, post office and a cooperative society are required to deduct TDS if a person in the previous year withdraws cash over ₹20 lakh. If a taxpayer withdraws cash to the tune of ₹1 crore or above, then in that case, the TDS rate is 2%, if he or she has filed income tax return (ITR) in any of three preceding assessment years. In case, the withdrawal amount is up to ₹1 crore, then no TDS will be applicable.

However, if the taxpayer hasn't filed ITRs for all of the preceding three assessment years, then the TDS will be applicable for withdrawals of ₹20 lakh and above. In this case, the TDS rate will be 2% for withdrawal of ₹20 lakh to ₹1 crore and the rate will be 5% if the withdrawal amount exceeds ₹1 crore. "Banks are facing practical difficulty in complying with 194N for TDS. As per RBI norms, banks are required to allow withdrawal of full amount to customers without adjustment of TDS. TDS is required to be debited to the account of the customer and can't be adjusted from cash withdrawn. It has been observed the customers have not been maintaining sufficient balance in their accounts, which results in additional loss to the banks," a top official said.

Withdrawal of cash over ₹20L attracts TDS

A banking company, post office, cooperative society required to deduct TDS if a person in the previous year withdraws cash over ₹20 lakh. If a taxpayer withdraws ₹1 crore or above, in that case, the TDS rate is 2%, if he or she has filed ITR in any of three preceding assessment years

The constitutional validity of section 194N has been challenged by various petitioners before the High Courts. Some of the rulings of the High Courts, wherein interim stay on the applicability of TDS under section 194N has been granted. This is resulting in several operational challenges for the banks to comply with tax provisions/high court order, said the official.

RIL to grow like banyan tree, roots will go deeper: Ambani

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BILLIONAIRE Mukesh Ambani on Wednesday said Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL) will continue to grow like a "banyan tree" and its "branches will spread wider and roots will go deeper".

"Years and decades will pass, Reliance will continue to grow like a banyan tree. Its branches will spread wider and roots will go deeper. We will always remember our founder Dhirubhai Ambani with immense gratitude, who planted the seed of this tree," he said at a virtual address marking the 90th birth anniversary of RIL founder Dhirubhai Ambani.

The event also marked his 20 years at the helm of the country's largest listed company. Mukesh, who is currently Asia's second-richest billionaire, took over the reins of RIL after the sudden demise of his father Dhirubhai Ambani on July 6, 2002. Under his 20-year reign, RIL's market capitalisation grew at an annualised rate of 20.6% from ₹41,989 crore in March 2002 to ₹17,81,841 crore in March 2022. Its revenue grew at an annualised rate of 15.4% from ₹45,411 crore in FY02 to ₹792,756 crore in FY22.

He said next 25 years are going to be the most transformative in the 5000 year history of India. He reiterated India can become a $40 trillion economy by 2047, when it completes 100 years of Independence.

Adani says doubts over group debt unfounded

ADANI GROUP Chairman Gautam Adani said on Wednesday the group is financially very strong and secure and the speculations over its debt are made with the intention of tarnishing image of the group. In an interview to a TV channel, Adani said the group's profit has grown at twice the rate its debt has in the past nine years. "...our debt to EBITDA ratio has come down from 7.6 to 3.2, which is healthy for a large group where most firms are in infra space with assured and predictable cash flow unlike in manufacturing," said Adani. ENS

2022 turns out to be good year for EVs as sales grew three-fold

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

CALENDAR year 2022 turns out to be a significant year for the electric vehicles (EVs) despite the industry witnessed a series of fire incidents at the beginning of summer season.

From SUVs to scooters, the sector was flooded with new launches and on the back of surging demand; the market for EVs grew three-fold in size.

According to data available at VAHAN portal, EV sales grew from 3.2 lakh units in 2021 to nearly 10 lakh in 2022, a growth of over 200%. With this rise in sales; penetration of the battery-powered vehicles in overall auto sales also witnessed a big jump: 1.8% in 2021 to 4.7 in 2022. This growth can be attributed to a host of favorable factors. While a sharp jump in petrol prices forced a section of buyers to start thinking about the 'alternative', deep incentive offered by the centre and state government made it affordable for many. The fire incidents also reduced as soaring temperatures took a dip.

"Offerings of new-aged start-ups like Ola Electric, Okinawa, Hero Electric, and Ather, Ampere, Bounce Infinity, and Pure EV have been widely accepted by consumers on grounds of effectiveness, enhanced comfort & riding experience owing to best-in-class technology and flexible charging options," said Sumit Chhazed, CEO and co-founder of OTO.

He added, "Such an accelerated demand would not have been possible without the support from the government - surging the FAME subsidies threefold, tax exemptions of up to ₹1.5 Lakh if purchased through a loan, road tax and registration fees exemption etc." As of December 9, nearly 7.47 lakh EVs were sold under FAME India Phase II, the government recently said. Road minister Nitin Gadkari had recently said India had over 18 lakh EVs with Uttar Pradesh leading with 23% share. More than half of the EVs on road are three-wheelers, which are used for commercial operations, followed by about 8 lakh two-wheelers. While the electric-2W space continues to witness intense competition, the electric four-wheeler space was almost entirely dominated by Tata Motors.

More businesses to use Web3 technology to expand operations

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

IN 2022, from start-ups to IT companies, many organisations spoke about Web3 and blockchain technology. It is expected that in 2023, more businesses will use the new technology to expand and scale up their operations.

Known as a new-era internet, Web3 includes concepts such as blockchain, metaverse and non-fungible tokens (NFTs). The focus on Web3 grew rapidly in India in 2015-17 with the launch of Ethereum. Nasscom in its recent report said Web3 start-ups in India have been growing in last two years and that there are over 450 start-ups at present with $1.3 billion of total investments in last two years until April 2022. "In 2023 and going forward, almost every sector is expected to adopt Web3 as there will be an increasing demand for better data security, operational transparency and the incorporation of blockchain technology in digital payment systems," said Sakina Arsiwala, co-founder, Taki, a Web3 social media platform.

Experts at Market Research Future predict in 2023, Web3 blockchain technology sector will be of over $6 trillion, making it one of the fastest-growing industries of the coming decade. "Web3 and blockchain technology development will continue to deliver a framework that empowers a vast number of users and communities. Web3's promise to take centralised control away from large companies in favour of the average person will become clearer as greater numbers of participants onboard Web3," the co-founder of Taki said.

According to Arsiwala, blockchain technology is one of the tech trends to watch out for in 2023 and also artificial intelligence (AI) will see an increase (for instance ChatGPT), and more businesses will adopt and work on projects related to tokenisation. In August, CoinSwitch launched Web3 Discovery fund, which will invest in and incubate 100 start-ups building solutions for Web3. A recent report by Xpheno said a blockchain specialist (SME-Developer, Architect) with 2-5 years experience takes home anywhere between ₹13-32 lakh per annum in Tier 1 institutes.

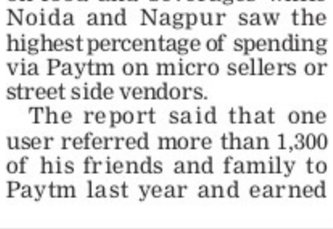
Telcos seek 6 GHz band for better service quality

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Cellular Operators Association of India (COAI) have sought allocation of 6 GHz spectrum band as it would enhance quality of service and will have various economic benefits.

COAI, which represents all the three telecom operators - Reliance Jio, Bharti Airtel and Vodafone Idea - said allocation would maximize economic and societal benefits for the country, while reducing the capital expenditure and driving affordable consumer broadband for achieving the national target of a $1 trillion digital economy. Currently, 6 GHz band is partly used for defence applications and satellite operations by the Indian Space Research Organisation (Isro) in India.



"The industry firmly believes it is critical to identify the 6 GHz band for (International Mobile Telecommunications) IMT services as it will not only aid in long-term network planning but also because 6 GHz is the last mid-band opportunity offering a provision of minimum 2 GHz contiguous mid-band spectrum, which will become essential for mobile communications beyond 2025," said Lt. Gen. Dr. SP Kochhar, Director General, COAI.

He added that mid-bands offer wide coverage and capacity and they are critical for rapid and cost-efficient deployments of 5G mobile networks. "This is established by the fact that out of the 176 global 5G networks rolled out, nearly 70% (120 networks) have harnessed mid-bands," said Kochhar.

Citing a report of GSMA, which shows that in the absence of required additional mid-band spectrum, mobile networks would need to be substantially densified by increasing the number of base stations to deliver 5G data rate targets. If telcos don't do so, 5G download speeds would be reduced to 50% if less spectrum is allocated in the 6 GHz band or 80% if only the 700 MHz band is allocated to IMT, compared to an assignment of 1.2 GHz.

DoT directs telecom operators to fix call drops, slow internet speed issues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Department of Telecommunication (DoT) on Wednesday asked telecom operators to improve the quality of their services including call drops and slow internet speed.

After the launch of 5G services by the telecom operators, instances of call drops and slow internet speed have gone up manifold. Telecom ministry held a meeting with telecom operators on this issue.

The meeting was chaired by telecom secretary K Rajaraman and attended by telecom service providers, including Bharti Airtel, Reliance Jio and Vodafone Idea. As per industry sources, in the meeting, which lasted over two hours, telcos gave detailed presentations on their services. The discussion was held on identifying policy and operational measures that can help telcos improve quality of telecom services. As per reports, the discussion ranged from issue of interference caused by illegal boosters to ironing out some remaining Right of Way issues.

This year, in September 2022, telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw directed the operators to improve their services. He had said industry will have to improve service quality "significantly", as government too has done its bit by ushering major reforms in the sector.

RANJI TROPHY

Mumbai's Suryakumar Yadav scored 95 runs against Saurashtra on Day Two in the Ranji Trophy match at BKC Ground in Mumbai, on Wednesday | PTI

Rajasthan dismiss Pondicherry twice in a day to secure victory

AGENCIES

MANAV Suthar completed a match haul of 11 wickets to compliment his unbeaten 96 as Rajasthan romped to an innings and 101-run win over Pondicherry in a Ranji Trophy match on Wednesday.

A day after the 20-year-old propped their first innings total to 335 with a 97-run last wicket partnership, Suthar returned to grab the limelight with his left-arm spin in a match haul of 11/62 as Rajasthan bowled out Pondicherry twice in the day — 104 and 130 while following-on — to seal a seven-point victory. Suthar was on a song in the first innings en route to 17-6-33-8, while Ravi Bishnoi claimed 2/33. The first innings of Pondicherry lasted just 38 overs. Following-on, they lasted 40.1 overs this time with Mahipal Lomror claiming 4/38, while Deepak Hooda bagged 2/13.

Meanwile in Goa, Manish Pandey slammed an unbeaten double century in his 100th first-class match as Karnataka declared their first innings score for a mammoth 603/7 against Goa. Overnight on 90, Pandey continued his assault on the Goan attack to notch his double century off 183 balls. Pandey remained unbeaten on 208 off 186 balls with 14 boundaries and 11 sixes. Opener Ravikumar Smarth struck 140 (14x4) and was dismissed by Arjun Tendulkar (2/79).

In Group C, young Delhi all-rounder Pranshu Vijayaran put up a gutsy show before twins Aparajith and Indrajith were dismissed in identical fashion by speedster Harshit Rana as Tamil Nadu reached 214 for five at stumps. Vijayaran, playing his second first-class game, smashed spinners Washington Sundar and R Sai Kishore to score 58 off 79 balls to take Delhi to a respectable first innings score of 303. He then bowled on a good channel and got the dangerous N Jagadeesan (34) caught behind but it was who tirelessly dug it in short and induced identical miscued pull shots from Aparajith (57) and Indrajith (71), both caught at mid-wicket. Another man who would be very disappointed is Washington, who was dismissed by an ordinary delivery drifting down leg side and his tickle ended in keeper Anuj Rawat's gloves. Tamil Nadu need 90 runs to get past Delhi with seasoned Vijay Shankar (14 batting) at the crease alongside Pradosh Ranjan Paul (2 batting).

In Mumbai, India's white ball star Suryakumar Yadav smashed 95 off 107 balls to take Mumbai to 230 all out in response to Saurashtra's first innings total of 289. Mumbai lost the first innings lead but bounced back to reduce Saurashtra to 120 for six in their second innings. Mumbai left arm spinner Shams Mulani once again did the bulk of the damage with four wickets.

Going into day four, Saurashtra lead Mumbai by 179 runs and would be looking to add another 50 runs at least to make a match out of it on a turning track.

TIME TO RESET & REFORMAT

Selectors' choices for Sri Lanka series an indication of the pathway India could take going forward

GOMESH S @ Chennai

TWELVE white-ball matches across as many venues in 30 days. That is how India's schedule looks like for the month of January 2023. As the year progresses, the schedule gets more hectic across formats, including two multi-nation white-ball tournaments, Asia Cup and ODI World Cup. With the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) releasing their squad for the first assignment of the year, a white-ball series against Sri Lanka, through a press release late on Tuesday night, there are more questions than answers.

For starters, the top-three of Rohit Sharma, Virat Kohli and KL Rahul are not a part of the squad for the shortest format. The T20I squad is very similar to the team that travelled to New Zealand in November. Apart from continuing as T20I skipper, Hardik Pandya is also handed the vice-captaincy for the ODIs as well with Rohit returning for the 50-over format. Although Hardik hasn't been officially named as the full-time T20I captain, it seems like the all-rounder is likely to be the anointed successor of Rohit in white-ball cricket.

"Right now, he (Hardik) is definitely a prospective candidate for the future in white-ball cricket," former chief selector MSK Prasad told this daily. "It is the duty of the selectors to keep on identifying successors whether it is at the management level or captaincy level or at the player level or department level. So, what after Rohit, what after Kohli, 'the what after' quest is always there. In that process, they probably think Pandya is the guy for white ball cricket. That is probably the reason why they made him deputy to Rohit. This is how they probably have to go till the World Cup," he added.

> I have always believed in Shikhar Dhawan because he has always done well in the ICC tournaments. But he has been given the opportunity which he has not encashed I guess. Shubman Gill has grabbed his opportunity. You can always fall back on Shikhar, but if you are banking on youngsters they need to be given sufficient number of opportunities.
> Former chief selector MSK Prasad

If picking a squad without the senior pros isn't indicative enough that India are heading towards a transition, Shikhar Dhawan, who captained every second-string ODI side since the pandemic broke, is left out of the format. Shubman Gill and Ishan Kishan, who became the fourth Indian to hit a double century in the format, have put up some compelling performances to secure a place ahead of the southpaw.

Ever since the T20 World Cup, focusing on format specific players, and to an extent even coach, has been among the key talking points in Indian cricket. In the squads for the Sri Lanka series, apart from Rohit, KL Rahul and Kohli, Mohammed Shami is picked only for ODIs. Same is the case with Kuldeep Yadav and Shreyas Iyer while Deepak Hooda, Harshal Patel and Rahul Tripathi are included only for the shortest format. And what's more, with multiple injury concerns — Ravindra Jadeja, Jasprit Bumrah and Rohit to name a few in recent times — workload management and player rotation becomes crucial in a year where India has a gruelling schedule across formats.

Prasad said that developing a pool of 35-40 players with regular rotation should be the key. "That is how we need to think about it, there should be a clear cut rotation. Start grooming and preparing the succession chart for every department in every format," said the former India cricketer.

In 2023, India will play 18 ODIs, 17 T20Is, and at least 8 Tests without including the Asia Cup, the ODI World Cup and the possibility of another WTC final. Two of their best batters from the last decade are not growing younger and the fast bowling resources are not the same as it was before the pandemic broke out. Whether one can see it or not, the transition period is here. And how the BCCI goes forward with the decisions in 2023 will have a huge impact on the way the team progresses for the next few years.

Club Brugge sack coach despite CL run

BRUSSELS: Belgian side Club Brugge sacked their coach Carl Hoefkens due to disappointing domestic results, despite him guiding the outsiders to the knockout stages of the Champions League. Hoefkens was a surprise choice when he was appointed as head coach in May after three seasons as assistant manager.

Oz Carey on to maintain control

AFP @ Melbourne

AUSTRALIA closed in on winning the second Test and the series against South Africa on Wednesday after Alex Carey struck a maiden century to leave them in a commanding position.

The hosts declared at tea on 575-8 on day three with an ominous lead of 386 after South Africa were bowled out in their first innings for 189.

In reply, the Proteas were 15-1 when play was abandoned early at the Melbourne Cricket Ground due to persistent drizzle.

Their bid to save the Test, and the three-match series after losing the opener in Brisbane, got off to a horror start with under-pressure skipper Dean Elgar caught by Carey off Pat Cummins without scoring in the second over.

Theunis de Bruyn, who was dropped by David Warner on three, was not out six alongside Sarel Erwee on seven.

Wicketkeeper Carey, playing in his 14th Test, was superb in reaching three figures for the first time before he was caught and bowled by Marco Jansen for 111. At the declaration, a battling Cameron Green was not out 51 despite a fractured finger, alongside Mitchell Starc on 10. "It was nice to be able to consolidate from our start from yesterday," Carey, only the second wicketkeeper to make a Test century at the MCG after Rod Marsh, told reporters.

"This one's really special, obviously it's a big moment. But it's also great to help the Australian cricket team be in a strong position. That's what we play for, to win games."

Carey and Green piled on the misery in a 117-run partnership after South Africa gave themselves a glimmer of hope with early wickets, including Warner first ball after he resumed on 200.

Australia began on 386-3 with Travis Head on 48 and Carey on nine after a herculean unbeaten double century from Warner in his 100th Test in gruelling heat on day two.

Brief scores: South Africa 189 and 15/1 in 7 ovs vs Australia 575/8 decl in 145 ovs (Warner 200, Carey 111, Head 51, Green 51 n.o, Nortje 3/92).

Pacer Shikha recalled to Indian team for 2023 T20 World Cup

GOMESH S @ Chennai

MORE than a year after her last international appearance, pacer Shikha Pandey has been recalled to the Harmanpreet Kaur-led Indian team for the upcoming T20 World Cup in South Africa early next year.

Shikha, who last featured for India during the T20I series against Australia in October 2021, was not picked for the ODI World Cup earlier this year to the surprise of many. She was subsequently not selected for the rest of the assignments through 2022, including the Women's T20 Challenge, Commonwealth Games and the Asia Cup.

During the 2022-23 domestic season, she came back strongly, picking up 20 wickets in 16 T20s at an average of 13.45 and an economy of 4.63. However, she did not make the team for the Australia series despite Pooja Vastrakar missing due to injury. The Indian bowling attack, featuring just two seamers, struggled to contain the Australian side in the recently concluded high-scoring T20I series.

Now, after 14 months, the All-India Women's Selection Committee has brought back Shikha for the tri-series in South Africa and the T20 World Cup. Vastrakar is named in both the squads but her final inclusion will be subject to fitness. Leg-spinning all-rounder Devika Vaidya, who had a good comeback series against Australia, retains her place while Amanjot Kaur, who has earned her maiden India call-up, and Shushma Verma are included only for the tri-series in which Shafali Verma and Richa Ghosh will not be taking part due to the U-19 T20 World Cup duties. Pacer Meghna Singh, whose poor run continued in the T20Is in Mumbai, makes the tri-series with Sneh Rana and Sabbineni Meghana but the trio are in the reserves for the global event. Having impressed everyone with her performance in the debut series, left-arm pacer Anjali Sarvani will have a key role to play for India in both the tri-series as well as the World Cup.

The Harmanpreet-led side will play Pakistan in their first game of the World Cup on February 12 in Cape Town. At the moment, they do not have a head coach or a bowling coach with the newly-appointed batting coach Hrishikesh Kanitkar running the show. Whether a bowling coach will be appointed before the World Cup is not known yet. "Definitely, it will be helpful (to have a bowling coach) and the BCCI is looking into it. I think we'll have somebody good coming in hopefully, very soon," Kanitkar had said after the T20I series against Australia.

Having reached the final of the last two big-ticket T20 events — 2020 T20 World Cup and 2022 Commonwealth Games — before losing to Australia in both competitions, the women will be hoping to go one step further this time around.

Kiwis look to seize initiative

AFP @ Karachi

KANE Williamson and Tom Latham hit contrasting hundreds to propel New Zealand to 440-6 at the close on the third day of the first Test against Pakistan in Karachi.

Williamson survived two stumpings and a leg-before decision before hitting an unbeaten 105, while Ish Sodhi was on one, with the tourists leading by two runs. Williamson's 25th Test ton is his first since he racked up 238, also against Pakistan, in Christchurch in January last year. He built on a solid foundation laid down by openers Latham, who cracked 113 en route to his 13th Test century, and Devon Conway, who fell for 92.

Brief scores Pakistan 438 vs New Zealand 440/6 in 136 ovs (Williamson batting 105, Latham 113, Ahmed 3/143).

United win but Ten Hag wants new striker

AFP @ Manchester

AS Erik ten Hag confirmed Manchester United's ongoing search for a new striker, his existing ones made up for Cristiano Ronaldo's departure in a 3-0 win against Nottingham Forest on Tuesday.

Marcus Rashford and Anthony Martial struck first-half goals in the game at Old Trafford as United moved to within a point of fourth-place Tottenham. However, if United's manager is to guide his team to a top-four finish in his first season at the club, he is likely to need more firepower to cover the exit of Ronaldo, who had his contract terminated last month.

Substitute Fred completed the scoring in the 87th minute — but Ten Hag was frustrated by a host of missed opportunities. "We have to score more goals," he said. "We created so many chances and it takes us just before the end to score the third goal. We need to take this moment earlier."

Rashford struck his 10th goal of the season and Martial scored his fifth in only five starts to highlight their potential as a partnership.

But Ronaldo's exit following his explosive interview with Piers Morgan has left Ten Hag with limited options in attack.

United were linked with a move for Netherlands international Cody Gakpo, who was one of the standout performers at the World Cup. However, PSV Eindhoven announced they had agreed to sell the forward to United's top-four rival Liverpool. "I don't talk about individual cases. We are looking for offensive players, we are looking for a striker," Ten Hag said. "It would be good because of all the games coming, we are playing every third day and it is tough. I think we are always in the market, but it has to match the sporting criteria, but also the financial criteria.

"We do what we can to bring in any player we can."

Chelsea get vital kick

Chelsea ended a three-game losing streak by beating Bournemouth 2-0. Kai Havertz and Mason Mount scored.

Culturally speaking, a striking quality of 2022 has been the return to stage after two pandemic-ridden years. Things are live again but remnants of the Covid era continue to lurk

(A)LIVE AGAIN

TUNIR BISWAS

WITH the two pandemic-ridden years of 2020 and 2021, most artistes had to succumb to a unidimensional role as the world around them went into deep hibernation due to global limitations. However, this year, people slowly came out of their residences, and art returned to the stage. 2022 essentially has given artistes freedom after two years of consented captivity.

In Bengaluru, the cultural space Atta Galatta took a big hit after it shut down in March 2020. "We have never been a store that sold books based on a catalogue. Instead, we were always selling an experience where people would come, attend events and hang out. None of that was happening even after the first wave ended. Despite making a digital catalogue and using social media to maintain our presence, we weren't making enough business to sustain the cost of our space in Koramangala. And hence, we eventually shut it down. But we did manage to do the Bangalore Poetry Festival after a gap of two years, and of course, the Bangalore Literature Festival also returned in its outdoor form. 2022 has been a year of getting back, in terms of organising festivals we normally used to do. It has also been a year of anticipation and missed deadlines," says the co-founder of Atta Galatta Subodh Shankar, adding, "But what made this year special for us is that we have finally moved into our new space in Indiranagar."

While Atta Galatta went through a bit of a sinusoidal curve this year, singer Raghu Dixit and his band, the Raghu Dixit Project, positively asymptoted to infinity. "We were elated to be back on the live stage and play for people. This year, once venues opened up, I noticed a newfound enthusiasm in the crowd. We locked 14 concerts in November, and 11 gigs in December. It is the most for us in our 20-year career. We have also started getting bookings for our UK tour next year. 2022 has also been great in terms of writing new material. But we are yet to hit back to the original pricing that we charged pre-pandemic," says Dixit, who performed at the Cannes Film Festival early this year.

Adding to Dixit's point, avant-garde thespian Mallika Prasad also noticed a surge in the audience coming in to attend live shows in 2022. "There was great enthusiasm to return to the stage this year. There will be an audience as long as we are responding to what's real and present in our experience. My show, Hidden in Plain Sight, had multiple screenings this year," says Prasad, who adds that her greatest takeaway from the pandemic years has been that theatre is bound only by our imagination and staying clear to what is present is key.

Art galleries also had a bit of an episode with Covid. Director of curatorial practices at gallery g, Archana Shenoy said they had to adopt a hybrid model to keep things running. "One of our takeaways from the lockdown years has been to ensure having no more than 40 people occupy our gallery at a single point in time. On the bright side, sales were continuing to happen, though naturally, the footfall was much lower. But in 2021 and throughout 2022, we have had astronomical sales. People are really investing in art and seem to be keen on doing up their homes and private spaces. Something new that we noticed was that people have become more geographically aware of their surroundings and are interested in buying local artefacts," she shares.

Similarly, India Foundation for the Arts (IFA) has also leaned towards the hybrid way. "We realised that many more people can join from different parts of the world in an online system. But in 2023, we are planning on bringing some of our projects in the physical form since it has its charm. The hybrid model is here to stay because we have figured out the advantages of the virtual space," says Arundhati Ghosh, executive director of IFA.

Many more people can join online shows from different parts of the world. But physical shows have their own charm and we're planning to bring them back next year

LOOKING BACK AND FORWARD ON A FOOD YEAR

ASLAM GAFOOR

(The writer is a Bengaluru-based hospitality professional, food lover, and travel enthusiast)

INDIA'S food and beverage business recovered strongly through 2022 following the uncertainties brought on by the pandemic waves over the previous couple of years. In namma Bengaluru, diners returned in droves to restaurants, bars, and microbreweries, online food delivery business soared, and new restaurant openings brought interesting culinary concepts to the table. The city had the most openings of new restaurants serving Asian cuisine, followed closely by the launch of sprawling microbreweries and chic cafés offering gourmet fare. Numerous food pop-ups featuring award-winning international chefs and mixologists from Thailand, New York, Mexico, France, Germany, and Australia debuted in the city; while cognac, whisky, gin, vodka, single malt, wine and beer brands hosted stylish parties to mark their grand arrival.

The difficulties and restrictions brought on by Covid influenced new culinary innovations in the areas of sustainability, climate-friendly dining, food technology, and healthier eating and drinking alternatives. In 2022, Bengaluru witnessed a slew of talented young chefs take centre stage in the culinary world helming projects at farm-to-plate experimental restaurants, stylish coffee-led food cafés, and art and culture hubs. The year also witnessed the success of private dining venues offering spaces for intimate and eclectic food pop-ups by aspiring and established chefs. We also saw leading chefs set out new standards for bespoke outdoor catering with handcrafted, carefully planned experiences to suit any mood and occasion.

According to the annual trends report by a leading food delivery app, the most popular dish ordered in 2022 was biryani, which was closely followed by chicken fried rice, vegetarian fried rice, masala dosae, tandoori chicken, and paneer butter masala. Samosas continued to be on the top of the ten most sought-after snacks. Additionally, the survey found that consumers were experimental in their food selections, ordering items like Mexican bowls, sushi, pasta, and spicy ramen. Gulab jamun, rasmalai, chocolate lava cake, rasgulla, chocochips ice cream, kaju katli, and hot chocolate fudge were among the most popular desserts ordered.

We all live and dine by the QR code! The use of digital codes to order food, make payments, and leave reviews at restaurants has become commonplace over the past few years, replacing the touch-and-feel of traditional menus. The early pains of the food industry's digital transformation have passed and technology is here to stay which will make a significant impact on both diner engagement and efficient restaurant operations.

With customers becoming more concerned with their health and the environment when it comes to their eating habits, sustainable, nutrient-rich meat replacements and cleaner ingredients will foray deeper in the days to come. Given the burden of rising costs and the unpredictability of the food supply chain, we will see chefs create smaller, more focused menus that nonetheless incorporate high-quality ingredients.

Drinks with zero or low alcohol content will become more popular as people think of new alcohol-free options for drinking and socialising. In the coming year, restaurants will turn back the clock and offer nostalgic dining experiences with regional produce which will remind us of simpler bygone times. With a new year on the anvil, it is time to find joy, warmth and comfort through some delicious meals in the company of family and friends.

PRASARITA PADOTTANASANA ADHO MUKHA SVANASANA HASTA

This is a variation of Prasarita Padottanasana, which is a great standing-forward fold pose for the whole body. It is a challenging pose but works wonders to get a better sense of a nice, long, and flat back.

STEPS

- Start in Tadasana (Mountain Pose).
- Inhale, place the hands on the waistline; feet wide, around 4-5 feet.
- Tighten the quadriceps by drawing up the knee-caps. Press into the heels and lengthen the tailbone down.
- Feel the connection from the sitting bones towards the feet. Turn the big toes slightly to build a stronger foundation.
- Lift the chest up, inhale, draw the navel in to spine, exhale, go half way down.
- Place the palms on the floor in line with the shoulders between the feet.
- Slowly walk your hands in front, stretch the arms like in Adho Mukha Svanasana arms.
- Then, spread the fingers and wide, firmly pressing down through your palms and knuckles.
- Elbows straight, rotate the arms externally, extend the back upwards. Draw the chest towards the thighs as you continue to lengthen the spine.
- Relax your head in, gaze between your legs comfortably, or towards your navel.
- Exhaling, lengthen the spine downwards. Stay in the pose for 3-5 breaths, initially.
- Lift your head up. Inhale, place your hands back on the waist.
- Finally, come ack to Tadasana and relax in Balsana.

FLASHBACK 2022

DR SUNIL BOHRA &
DR SATISH JAGADEESHAN

AS we draw to a close on the third year of the Covid era while it continues to affect the health and well-being of Indians, let's look back at the health events that marked during this year 2022. In January and February, the country was reeling with the third wave of Covid-19 and at its peak, the wave involved the highest weekly number of cases and nearly the highest weekly number of deaths of the entire pandemic. But thanks to the 5T plan (testing, tracking, tracing, triaging and technology) to tackle Covid-19 along with an enhanced vaccination drive, it controlled the pandemic and by March 2022, India had just 22,487 cases across the country. International flights resumed on 27 March '22 after a gap of two years. Subsequently, Covid-19 caused less disruptions in people's lives, making it possible to resume pre-pandemic activities like travel, attending large events, resuming physical consultations and attending school and colleges in person.

There was a steady decline in the number and severity of cases and the economy was progressing towards the pre-pandemic levels. However, in July '22, the outbreak of Mpox (formerly, monkeypox) created some panic among the public, but thankfully did not cause much concern as preventive measures along with vaccination for at-risk populations caused a steady fall in the incidence of Mpox in India. There are numerous lessons to be learnt from this pandemic for improving the healthcare system. The Covid-19 pandemic exposed the weaknesses of global and national health systems. The ever-struggling healthcare systems shifted their resources to the pandemic response and this aggravated the burden on people with non-communicable diseases by delaying and disrupting their diagnosis, treatment and care.

The demand for telemedicine and AI-assisted decision-making tools existed before the pandemic, but the pandemic accelerated their progress. The role of technology is becoming increasingly prominent in supporting the physician's clinical decision-making as well as helping patients access medical services. It will eventually play an even greater role in shaping the future of health systems. Healthcare delivery in India has witnessed a renewed focus on adopting digital technology during the pandemic. Teleconsulting guidelines combined with the ever-increasing health technology startups have evolved to make the healthcare journey better for the Indian population. The new normal in the healthcare ecosystem will be about how healthcare delivery will innovate in the coming decade and what it means for both patients and healthcare providers.

It is still unknown what may come next in relation to Covid-19 - how many cases will continue in the community, whether there will be new waves or new variants, and whether new vaccines or treatments will be more effective than those currently available.

While the current strain of Omicron BF.7 is creating havoc in China, let's hope that the situation in India will not worsen considering our country's vaccine coverage and the natural immunity which we have developed over the past three years. However, it's imperative for us to follow the guidelines laid down by the government in early detection, isolation, testing and timely management of suspected and confirmed cases to detect and contain Covid-19 outbreaks, as well as staying up to date with the recommended vaccinations. Also, it's important for people to follow healthy lifestyles, be physically active, get enough sleep and make healthy choices at school and workplaces to prevent chronic diseases like cancer, diabetes, hypertension and heart diseases.

Let's hope 2023 will be a healthy year for Indians as India takes on the G20 Presidency and we can expect a major revolution in healthcare.

1 What are some of the low-calorie spirits that I can have during a New Year's party?
Party hard but go easy on alcohol as it has empty calories, and leads to a puffy face and bloated belly, especially if you consume spirits with carbonated drinks. Moderation is the name of the game. Skip mocktails, as they could be loaded with sugar and cream. Choose to have your spirit with water over aerated drinks. Wine is sort of beneficial, but compared to other drinks it's high in calories. You can lift your spirits, minus spirits by dancing away. This gets your endorphins flying high. Have fun!

2 How to do your control sweets and festive food cravings?
Yielding to temptation is quite natural, we are humans after all. This is the time you get to test your mental strength. Think health and remember – there is no spot reduction, consume in moderation, eat slowly, eat with a small spoon, and chew well. Cutting off the beckoning food which is usually high in calories, will turn you into a rebel. Soon, you might end up consuming double the quantity.

3 I love yoga and want to stick with it. But I also want to lose weight. Can yoga help with?
No workout can make you lose weight unless you create a calorie deficit. A combination of cardio and strength exercises teamed with a healthy and balanced diet in moderation can get you strong, fit and lean. This combo of cardio and strength will burn calories during and after exercise. It revs your metabolism. Yoga is a bodyweight exercise routine. Along with that, I would suggest you include free weights and other external resistance like stability ball, ankle/wrist weights, mini bands et al and train the body three-dimensionally. Work on other skills such as agility, speed, power, reflexes, coordination, which are gradually lost with age. Let your fitness regime be well-rounded.

Breathing exercises can help increase lung capacity, oxygen levels in body: Experts

During the Covid-19 pandemic, people across the world understood how unpleasant the feeling of breathlessness can be when the virus hit lung capacity. With the coronavirus again seeing a resurgence, there is enhanced aspiration to remain fit as the feeling of dread that the pandemic invoked has led to a heightened sense of concern regarding health. However, due to a busy lifestyle, few people can manage to hit a gym. In lieu of all this, improved breathing can do some miracles by boosting lung health and capacity, which is crucial for the holistic health and well-being of an individual. "Improved breathing through breathing exercises and certain techniques can help increase lung capacity and oxygen levels in the body, some of the key benefits that one gets through exercise," says Dr Deepak Sharma, consultant Pulmonologist, adding that lung capacity shows how much air your lungs can hold. – IANS

Dhananjay will end the year with his sixth release by Kushal Gowda slated to hit the theatres this week

'Jamaligudda is another experiment from my end'

CE FEATURES

THE year 2022 was a busy year for actor-filmmaker Dhananjay, who had five film releases and will end the rather productive year with his sixth release, Once Upon a Time in Jamaligudda. "Except for Hoysala, all the projects that I had committed to after the pandemic found a release this year. Over the last couple of years, I have managed to experiment with different roles, and collaborate with different teams. This helped me spread my wings to other languages too, and I have successfully launched my own production house. My continuous efforts bore fruit this year, and every film of mine had positive results," he says.

Will this process of doing half-a-dozen films a year continue for Dhananjay in the coming years too? "No. I don't think so. I also need my time and space. Today, one film takes 100 days, and the latest example is my film, Hoysala. I should also think about the scale and the canvas of my films before signing multiple projects," he explains.

2022 was also a year that helped the actor get close to his audience, which, in turn, helped him choose better roles. "My audience can expect me to play strong, heroic characters with the right kind of teams to mount those projects," he says.

Coming to Jamaligudda, the film will have him collaborate with debutant director Kushal Gowda, and going by the looks and character of Hiro Shima, it is not a regular outing for Dhananjay, and he agrees. "This is another experimental effort from my end. It is a travel-based film that will have the audience taking back wonderful memories. All credit goes to Kushal Gowda, who has neatly opened a new world and strikes an emotional chord. The subject does not fall under any particular genre, and will be loved by all sections of the audience," he says. Jamaligudda is about what happens when a prisoner escapes from prison, and how events unfold around him. Although the film is set in the mid-90s, Dhananjay strongly believes that Once Upon a Time in Jamaligudda will still feel fresh. "The film revolves around friendship, love, fights, relationships, prison, etc... and has special twists. Even though it is a fictional story, this movie will feel so relatable," he says.

The film also stars Bhavana Ramanna, who is back on screen after a hiatus, Prakash Belawadi, Aditi Prabhudeva, Nandagopal, Yash Shetty, Tagaru Saroja, and child artiste Praanya, among others.

Dhananjay, who has wrapped up shooting for Hoysala, will begin 2023 with the multilingual project (Kannada and Telugu), which is directed by Eshwar Karthik, and stars Satya Dev. Uttarakaanda with director Rohit Padaki will be his other project in 2023.

Padavi Poorva was written to be submitted to the New York Film Academy: Director Hariprasad

CE FEATURES

HARIPRASAD Jayanna, a techie-turned-filmmaker, quit his job in the USA ten years ago to follow his passion for cinema. Having done a one year course at New York Film Academy, Hariprasad started assisting Yogaraj Bhat. However, kickstarting his debut film wasn't an easy process. After two false starts, he is finally happy to realise his dream with Padavi Poorva. "I did have a good job as a software engineer and used to earn a handsome salary. But that didn't give me the satisfaction my heart yearned for. Since we have just one life, I wanted to live without regrets."

To begin with, Hariprasad shares that Padavi Poorva began as a thesis for his final project at the Film Academy. "However, I could not bring to life the nativity and period timeline of the film. Also, Padavi Poorva needed many actors. So I dropped this and submitted another project. At that time, I had decided that my debut feature film should be Padavi Poorva," explains Hariprasad.

Making a film with freshers is enterprising, but not an easy process, but Hariprasad was adamant about having it this way. "No producers are interested to invest in a 19-year-old hero, and everyone is looking for commercial value," says the director, who wanted to work with actors without the burden of an image. Talking about his journey with team Padavi Poorva, Hariprasad says that the pandemic helped him with the casting, rehearsals, and preparation work. "There is a lot of detailing that went into making Padavi Poorva, which included the costumes, atmosphere, and even the smallest of things like the bags, geometry box, cycles, etc... The lockdown also helped me to bond with these youngsters, who have put in their best effort."

However, Hariprasad strongly believes in his content and is confident about the end result. "By now we should also be aware that no freshers will get a red carpet welcome. I knew pre-release business will be difficult, but I have faith in the product, and it will be proven once it gets released. Moreover, we had a very well-planned production team, and I have good support from my mentor, Yogaraj Bhat, who is also producing the film along with Ravi Shamanur. Bhatru has been a strength both in my career and my personal life. I also have writer Yogi, DoP Santhosh Rai Pathaje, and composer Arjun Janya, who have contributed to the elevation of this film."

Padavi Poorva, starring Prithvi Shamanur, Anjali Anish, and Yasha Shivakumar in the lead, is a college caper that aims to tap into the nostalgia of the 90s. The film also stars Aditi Prabudeva, Sri Mahadev, and Divya Uruduga among others in special roles. "Generations will change, but the emotions between friends will continue to stay strong, and this is what I have tried to highlight through Padavi Poorva," he signs off.

RISHAB SHETTY TO END 2022 WITHOUT ANY BAGGAGE OR PRESSURE

Rishab Shetty talks about the year that was, thanks to the super success of Kantara, his plans for Bell Bottom 2, which will take off after his next project with Hombale Films

A SHARADHAA

Rishab Shetty might give the impression that the phenomenal success of Kantara has changed him but the actor-filmmaker says that the only difference is the lack of time and space to sit down for discussions in an open space."The recognition has pushed me to have my discussions in closed doors, but otherwise I am still the same."

While Rishab agrees that the result of Kantara was indeed a great positive from 2022, his approach to films hasn't changed. "My efforts for Kantara were the same as the efforts I put for Sa.Hi.Pra. Shaale, and in fact, it is the same for any film I am part of. Since I was also an actor in Kantara, the challenges were even more. The scale, the production by Hombale Films, acting and directing it was a huge responsibility. Having said that, some films turn out to be magical, and Kantara was exactly that. You can call it a miracle or God's blessings."

While Kantara is still quite the rage across the country, Rishab plans to end the year without any baggage or pressure. "I want to start my next film with a fresh mind. Of course, Kantara was a good experience, and its success has given me the space to think differently and look for unique subjects."

However, Rishab is clear that he wouldn't want to encash the fame by doing something that he might not have his whole heart. "If I wanted to, I would have started my next project 2 months ago. In fact, apart from widespread appreciation, I have been offered opportunities with big production houses from Hindi, Telugu, Tamil, and Malayalam industries. However, I'm sticking to my original plans. Considering my commitment to my next project for Hombale Films, and follow it up with Bell Bottom 2, I have requested those who have approached me not to wait because I believe that Cinema should not wait for anyone."

Will his next film be a pan-India project or just a Kannada film? "Audiences across India have liked Kantara. At the same time, Kantara was just a Kannada film, and it is the audience who broke that language barrier, and made it an Indian film. So I'm looking to bring in content with a universal appeal. Having said that, I will not go with the intention of making my project pan-Indian. It will be a Kannada cinema but if it is something that reaches all kinds of audience, then we will think of dubbing it in other languages."

What did the Kantara journey, right from the making to the release to the national-level reach, teach Rishab? "More than the success, the work and its result is what is most important. It is the result that brings you opportunities. If I had not traveled with Kantara across India, it would become just another dubbed film. I was a guest to the North Indian audience, and today they have accepted me wholeheartedly. The appreciation and respect that I have received from big stars have given me a lot of energy. Coming from Keradi, which is 500 km from Bengaluru, having studied in a Kannada medium school, I took to cinema as a passion. I have worked in various fields, and even worked as an office boy and a driver in a Mumbai-based production house. From then to this phase of my career, I see it as a result of all the efforts I've done to date. Cinema is like God to me, and I worship it. Kayakave Kailasa (Work is worship)."

Director Rian Johnson unhappy with his film's title

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Rian Johnson revealed that he is not too pleased with the title of his recent outing Glass Onion: A Knives Out Mystery.

According to Variety, Johnson expressed frustration over having to add A Knives Out Mystery to the film's title for marketing purposes. "I've tried hard to make them self-contained," Johnson said about his Knives Out films, the only overlap between 2019 original and its 2022 sequel being Daniel Craig's detective character.

"Honestly, I'm pissed off that we have A Knives Out Mystery in the title. You know? I want it to just be called Glass Onion", he said to Variety.

"I get it, and I want everyone who liked the first movie to know this is next in the series, but also, the whole appeal to me is it's a new novel off the shelf every time. But there's a gravity of a thousand suns toward serialised storytelling." Johnson added.

As per Variety, Glass Onion, which has been at the top of Netflix's daily most-watched chart since its streaming debut, features an entirely new mystery and an ensemble of suspects, including Dave Bautista, Janelle Monae, Kathryn Hahn, Kate Hudson and Edward Norton, among others.

Johnson said that he loves endings so much that he didn't want the Knives Out name to live on after the end of the 2019 original, which nabbed Johnson an Oscar nomination for original screenplay. Meanwhile, Variety noted that Johnson and Craig have already signed a deal to develop a third Knives Out film for Netflix.

JAMES CAMERON CUT 10 MINUTES INVOLVING GUN VIOLENCE FROM AVATAR: THE WAY OF WATER

CE FEATURES

JAMES Cameron's Avatar sequel, Avatar: The Way of Water, is currently running in theatres, and has become a box office success despite its mixed reviews. Speaking about the three-hour long film, the filmmaker revealed that he had cut ten minutes of scenes that involved gun violence.

Mentioning that he is not interested in fetishising guns in scenes involving action, James was quoted as saying, "I actually cut about 10 minutes of the movie targeting gunplay action. I wanted to get rid of some of the ugliness, to find a balance between light and dark. You have to have conflict, of course. Violence and action are the same thing, depending on how you look at it. This is the dilemma of every action filmmaker, and I'm known as an action filmmaker."

Referring to the gun violence in the US, James recalled the times he used guns in his films like Terminator and said he does not know if he would want to do that now. "I don't know if I would want to fetishise the gun, like I did on a couple of 'Terminator' movies 30-plus years ago, in our current world. What's happening with guns in our society turns my stomach," he added.

Avatar: The Way of Water, the sequel to the 2009 blockbuster, is set more than a decade after the story of the first film ends. It follows Jake and Neyitiri as they build their family and battle their past, which seems to be catching up with them.
